Foreword

This is a follow-up revision, in advance of the annual 25 Apr 2024 issue; currently with 30 pages of added information, records, photos, annotated maps and the 1940 will related to Felsham Goodrich descendant Ernest Flagg (1857-1947), whose Felsham Goodrich ancestry (published in 1926) is on page 21 of the Jun 2016 newsletter, and who was the subject of the first part of the first article in the original 08 Jan 2024 (rev. 1) issue.

Special thanks to AmericanAncestors.org (also known as New England Historic Genealogical Society—NEHGS) for permission to include scans of Goodrich of Wethersfield, compiled for Chauncey Devereux Stillman, a Descendant, (private; 1938), by Winifred Lovering Holman (1899-1989), in the upcoming annual 25 Apr 2024 issue, through the second generation in America (one Goodrich line it covers has 7 generations in America). This genealogy is cited as: "Goodrich Family Association Private Collection: Lillian Redstone English Research" for a few of its scanned images on pages 93-95 of the 30 Sep 2013 issue. I just became aware recently that these "Lillian Redstone" images are actually taken from the "Stillman-Goodrich" genealogy, and when I accessed "Stillman-Goodrich" I realized its value. This is not Ancestry of Colonel John Harrington Stevens and His Wife Frances Helen Miller (private; 1948), or the "Stevens-Miller" genealogy, by Mary Lovering Holman (1868-1947), which shares Lillian Redstone English 1930s research in support of "Stillman-Goodrich" yet in numerous critical instances they reach different conclusions. FamilySearch.org, American Ancestors.org links in this issue provide 1-click access only if logged in to the websites.

John and William Goodrich, brothers, located first at Watertown, Mass., where it has been said six tracts of land were granted to William, but they were evidently granted to another William Goodrich with wife Margaret, who died in 1647, which is proved by the fact that he was holding them after 1644. (Bond's Watertown, p. 777; Watertown Records, I, p. 102, of lands, etc.) He was among the very first settlers at Wethersfield, being one of a small party known as the adventurers who wintered there before the arrival of the main body. The next year, 1636, the Watertown Company or the larger part of it, including his brother John, migrated to the site of the new town and there planted themselves anew. In the distribution of the town lands among the settlers, he had several lots assigned to him. He drew land in the allotment of 1670, but his homestead of 6 acres he bought of Thomas Ufford, which was on the west side of Main Street, diagonally across from the meeting house. He also bought 117 acres from Ufford on the east side of the river. (Stiles' Ancient Wethersfield.) He was Freeman, May 15, 1656; Deputy to the General Court for five sessions from May, 1662 to October, 1666, inclusive, a member of the Grand Jury in May, 1662, and Ensign of the Wetherfield trainband in May, 1665; one of Mason's Army in the Pequot War of 1637. (Col. Records of Conn., 2, p. 17.) He left what was there and then thought to be a very large estate,

He served in Queen Anne's War (1703-1713), as Lieutenant "of the Souldiers raised in the countie of Hartford," in 1704, and as Captain in 1710. In October of that year, the Gen. Assembly granted Capt. David Goodrich "for his care and service as quartermaster of the regiment of this Colony at the Wood Creek the last year, the sum of six pounds money, besides the wages that hath already been allowed him as adjutant of the said regiment." (Col. Rec. of Conn., 1706-16, p. 177.) He seems to have been a surveyor, or to have had a knowledge of surveying, for he was often employed by the Assembly, with Jonathan Burnham, a grandson of Thomas Burnham, in laying out the bounds of towns and running dividing lines between them. In 1723, he was Captain of a force of 60 men, one of three Companies ordered to proceed to the assistance of the towns of Hampshire County, Massachusetts, against the Indians. He served again as Captain early in 1724, and late in that year is styled "Colonel" in the Colonial Records. He was a Justice of the Peace, also Justice of the Quorum, Constable, 1690, Selectman, 1700, Member of the Council and Deputy from Wethersfield to the General Assembly for many years, serving for the last time at the May session of 1739, at the age of 72. Before he completed publication in 1926 of Genealogical Notes on the Founding of New England: My Ancestors Part in That Undertaking; a comprehensive, sourced genealogy of all of his ancestral lines to immigrant/pre-immigrant,⁴ Ernest Flagg contributed his ancestral lines to Family Records of the Descendants of Gershom Flagg (Born 1730) of Lancaster, Massachusetts that was published in 1907 by co-descendants Norman Gershom Flagg and Lucius C. S. Flagg.¹⁵ And even the 1907 version of descendants of Gershom Flagg; son of immigrant Thomas Flagg (or Thomas Flegg) was preceded by Dr. Henry Bond, M.D., who had compiled and published in 1860: Genealogies of the Families & Descendants of the Early Settlers of Watertown, Massachusetts.¹⁶ However, the unique relevant feature of Genealogical Notes on the Founding of New England: My Ancestors Part in That Undertaking (1926) was full coverage of all ancestral lines of compiler Ernest Flagg, including most notably for the purposes of this newsletter Felsham Goodrich.

Tragedy in 1912

On the evening of 23 Feb 1912 (51-52 days before the RMS Titanic hit an iceberg and was sunk with a great loss of passenger and crew lives on 14-15 Apr 1912), the car in which Ernest Flagg and his wife Margaret (Bonnell) Flagg were being driven to a private dinner being hosted by fellow architect Stowe Phelps (b. 1869) at 161 East 74th Street in Manhattan hit a 13-year-old boy on roller skates fatally when the boy skated into the path of the car and the car could not stop in time. The boy was taken into the car and held by Mr. and Mrs. Flagg on the way to Presbyterian Hospital; however, he died as the car entered the gates, as described in the New York Times account below.¹⁷ Then the father of Margaret (Bonnell) Flagg died abruptly after eye-ear surgery on 17 Jun 1912.¹⁸

THIRD TERM SHOULD BE PROHIBITED BY LAW

Former Senator Blair on the Present Actions of Col. Roosevelt.

ATTEMPT AT REVOLUTION

If Elected He Might Use the Army and Navy to Per-petuate His Power.

WASHINGTON, June 17. Former Senato Blair, who has organized a National Anti-Third Term League, of which he is president, called on President Taft to-day Anti-Third Term League, of which he is president, called on President Tat to-day to discuss the political situation and inform him of the progress of the work of the league. Mr. Blair cited the failure of Gen. Grant to obtain a third term, although he was popular with the people and with the civil war veterans. He declared that the actions of Col. Roosevelt at this time indicate that he would not hesitate to attempt the use of the army and navy to obtain a third term if he were in power now in the place of President Taft. After the conference Senator Blair made the following statement:
"Who can doubt that if Theodore Roosevelt was now in the White House serving his second term, with his personal following at the capital, the great monopolies now supporting him and the ambitions and hopes of other men identified with his success and with the army and nave under his direct command he.

fied with his success and with the army and navy under his direct command he would renominate and reelect himself to a third and succeeding terms? See what he is doing as he now is—a mere private citizen.

(opinion article continues)26

(Aside) US Politics of 1912²⁷

The election of 32nd US President Franklin Delano Roosevelt (1882-1945) to a brief 4th consecutive term in 1944 is now nearly 80 years past. It is interesting to note that 112 years ago, the same 18 Jun 1912 issue of The Sun (NY) with the obituary of J. Harper Bonnell on page 13 had on page 6 an opinion article by the then-former US Senator Henry William Blair (1834-1920; R-NH);²⁸ organizer and president of the "National Anti-Third Term League."²⁹ Sen. Blair did not want 26th US President Theodore Roosevelt (1858-1919) to be elected to a 3rd non-consecutive term as a member of the populist Bull Moose Party, which competed with the Republican Party then united behind incumbent 27th US President William Howard Taft (1857-1930). Theodore Roosevelt had pledged in 1904 not to run for a third term, though in 1912 he was willing to break his earlier pledge due to his great dissatisfaction with the Taft administration. Woodrow Wilson (1856-1924) won the 1912 election and became the 28th US President.³⁰

AT A SURROGATE'S COURT, held in and for the County of Richmond, at the Surrogate's Office in said County on the Zist day of April in the year 1947.
PRESENT: HON. JOHN C. BOYLAN, Surrogate.
IN THE MATTER OF PROVING THE LAST WILL AND CODICIL THERETO OF :
ERNEST FLAGG, Deceased.
The Citation in this matter having been duly waived, such proceedings were thereupon had that the proofs were duly taken, and the allegations of the parties appearing having been heard, and the probate of said Will and Codicil not having been contested:
IT IS DECIDED, ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED, that the instrument offered for probate in this matter is the last Will and Testament and Codicil of the said testator, and, as such, is valid as a Will and Codicil of real and personal estate, and the same is hereby admitted to probate as a Will and Codicil of real and personal estate, and that Letters Testamentary be issued the reon to the executors who may qualify thereunder.
JOHN C. BOYLAN Surrogate
W I L L
LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF ERNEST FLAGG
lst. I direct that my body be cremated without religious or other ceremony.
2nd. I give and bequeath to my wife, MARGARET ELIZABETH, all household equipment of every kind contained in my house at 109 East 40th St. Manhattan and in my house and all its dependencies at Dongan Hills, Staten Island, this to include furniture, books, pictures, tapestries, automobiles and all other chattles of every kind 3rd. I give and devise to my said wife my residence at Staten Island with all its dependencies and the plot on which it stands being the same which I bought from Thomas Dunn and known as tax plot 891 - plot 1.

4th. I give and devise to Alfred Beaver, provided he is in my employ at the time of my death, the house on the Richmond Road Staten Island where he now resides together with a plot of land on which it stands, being eighty feet in width on the road and rear by one hundred feet in depth.

5th. I give and devise to Agnes Tehan, provided she is in my employ at the time of my death, the stone house on the Richmond Road Staten Island known as the McCall House, together with a plot of land on which it stands, being eighty feet in front on the road and rear by one hundred feet in depth.

6th. I direct that all my framed drawings of St. Luke's Hospital, N.Y. be offered to that institution and that similar offers be made to the Corcoran Gallery of Art Washington, D.C. and to the United States Naval Academy, at Annapolis; also that the large framed drawing of the Singer Building be offered to the Museum of the City of New York, and if the same be accepted I give and bequeath the said drawings to the institutions named.

7th. All the rest, residue and remainder of my property, both real and personal, I give devise and bequeath to my trustees hereinafter named, in trust, to reinvest the same and to keep the same invested and I authorize my Executors and Trustees to sell any real estate owned by me at their discretion whenever, in their opinion, it is necessary to do so for the benefit of the trust estate created by my will, and I also authorize my Executors and trustees to mortgage any real estate owned by me, now mortgaged for the purpose of paying off existing mortgages to the amount necessary to replace such mortgages and also for the purpose of paying estate taxes assessed agains my estate, and otherwise to have all the powers over the same which I would have if living; and to pay the net income therefrom to my said wife as long as she shall live and at her death to my daughter BETSY as long as she shall live. Upon the death of both my wife and daughter the whole estate to go in equal shares to my daughters children per stirpes.

Sth. If for any reason the net income from my estate should decline so that my wifes income from it, or my daughters income from it after the death of my wife, should be less than four thousand dollars per annum, then I direct that enough of the principal be used to provide the said four thousand dollars per annum.

9th. I request, but do not direct that my wife or daughter provide in such a way as may be convenient, for the support of my sister Rosalie.

10th. I hereby appoint THE BROOKLYN TRUST COMPANY as trustee and Executor under this my Will, and I also appoint as co-executors and trustees my daughter and her husband John Melcher, to serve without pay and I direct that no bond be required.

14th. I hereby revoke and declair null and void all other wills or codicis thereto heretofore by me made.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF I have hereunto set my hand and seal this 7 day of June,

The Felsham Goodrich Mystery: Published Genealogical Components

A full account of the Felsham Goodrich Mystery described will be provided in the annual full April 25 DNA Day issue, including a full update of the Goodrich Surname DNA Project. In this issue, the perceived potential contributing published passages will be provided and, if of interest, the mystery and its resolution can be pursued by readers. Three other genealogists are involved: Mary Lovering Holman (1868-1947),⁶⁶ daughter Winifred Lovering Holman (1899-1989),⁶⁷ and their archivist connection in England, Lillian Jane Redstone (1885-1955).⁶⁸

(Ernest Flagg-1926):⁶⁹ "In the collection of data, no pains have been spared, in which task the writer has had the best obtainable assistance. Original documents were examined by the most skillful genealogists and much hitherto unpublished information brought to light. Owing to the great amount of painstaking labor thus expended, the writer is now able to say that, in most cases, the genealogical sheets contain more reliable and fuller information, within the bounds set, than can be found in any other single place concerning the families to which they refer."

(Ernest Flagg-1926):70 "GOODRICH. William Goodrich" of Wethersfield was son of John Goodricha, of Bury St. Edmunds, co. Suffolk, Clothier, whose will is dated April 14, 1632. In it he mentions two sons named William the elder and William¹ the younger. His wife's name was Margery^a. His father was

- 2. William Goodrich^b of Hessett, b. abt. 1570. Will dated 1631, He was perhaps son of
- 3. Adam Goodrich^c of Felsham, b. abt. 1540. Will dated 1596-7. His father was
- 4. Robert Goodrich^d of Felsham, b. abt. 1515, exec. 1554. Inherited homestead in Felsham, in subsidy at Felsham, 1568. He was son of
- 5. John Goodrich^e of Felsham, b. abt. 1490. On subsidy, 1523. Will, 1554. He was probably descended from Robert Goodrich of Felsham who was on subsidy of 1327."

(Winifred Lovering Holman-1938):⁶⁷ "WILLIAM GOODRICH of Hessett, Suffolk, England, born about 1550, probably in Suffolk, died in Hessett, in October 1631, 'Sepulti, Gulielmus Gotheridge sepult vicesimo quarto Octobris,' testate. He married, by 1575, or earlier, Margaret - - -, probably the mother of all his children, who die there in March 1630-31, 'Sepulti Margaret Gutterich sepult: Marcij vicesimo secund,' leaving no recorded estate.

Boyd's Suffolk Marriage Index, on file at the Ipswich Public Library in Suffolk, gives these early William Goodrich marriages; ante 1600:

1568, Wm. Goodrich and Margaret Richardson at Felsham.

1576, Wm. Goodrich and Joan Wilby at Holbrook.

1578, Wm. Goodrich and Eunice Green at Bardwell.

1597, Wm Goodrich and Alce Robinson at Bury (St. James).

The first marriage given above – that of William Goodrich and Margaret Richardson in Felsham in 1568 is of interest in view of the fact that William's wife was named Margaret as early as 1577 and that his will of April 1631 also names wife Margaret.* (* Felsham Registers begin in 1656).

Now Flagg's 'Founding of New England," published in 1926, suggests that this William of Hessett was son of an Adam of Felsham, whose will was dated 1596-97. A Robert appears on the Subsidy Returns for Felsham in 1327, and a John of same, appears there on the Return of 1524 as 'Godryche' being taxed then on goods. Flagg states that the latter drew his will in 1554 and was the father of a Robert, who served as the executor in 1554 and appears on the Return of 1568 as of Felsham as 'Godryche' being taxed £5 in land. If this hypothesis should prove correct, we would have the lineage of our William as William' (Adam⁴, Robert³, John², Robert¹ of Felsham and Hessett. However, we are on sure ground when we start with a search of the Hessett records as see the evidence from the papers contained in the Private Controversies at Hartford on the previous pages, in addition to which we have the will of William Goodrich of Hessett, dated 4 April 1631, proved 2 February 1631-32, the grandfather of the emigrants...⁷¹

Miss Redstone covered the parish registers of Hessett from its beginning until 1640 and made not of all Goodrich entries, she also extended the search of burials to 1654 in order to see if William's daughters were buried there – Susan Beamond and Elizabeth Clarke – and covered the years of 1678 and 1698 for Reverend William (the Younger) and his widow. The Church Chest (said to be 14th century) was examined for rate books, certificates and charchwarden's accounts prior to 1640. There are few certificates of removal. The Goodrich family do not occur with those who frequently hold office as churchwardens, overseers, constables and the like. The one deed in which William Gooderiche appears as a feofee, in 1585, concerns two acres of meadow or town land; this was possibly land called 'Cotys' which had been bequeathed to the 'town' of Hessett in 1500:

Deed of Edmund Nun, clerk, 16 November 1585, enfeoffing Edmund Bacon of Hessett and a number of others of one meadow of two acres, the names of the feofees include that of 'William Gooderiche...'

- ii. JOHN, under 21 in 1632, probably born about 1616, or perhaps a twin of his elder brother and if so, born about 1615; married, first, about 1644, Elizabeth _____; and secondly, in 1674, Mary (Foote) Stoddard; AN EMIGRANT.
- William, the Younger, born in 1617, died 17 June 1678, Hessett, testate, --- '1678 Gulielmus Goodrich Cler. sepult Jun. 17°, ' (Hessett Register). He married Rebecca _____, who died 18 November 1698 (not recorded at Hessett). For his estate and its final settlements by his nephew in New England, vide ante, pp 2-13. His name appears in the Bury St. Edmund's Grammar School List, by Sydenham Hervey: p. 163, '#120, Goodrich, William, son of John Goodrich of Bury St. Edmunds, draper, 7 years at Bury under Dickenson; Adm. Caius Coll, April 1634, ae 17; B.A. 1638.' This school was founded in 1550 out of an older endowment, but the lists extant date only from 1634. We also have his record from Cantabrigiensis: 'Goodericke, WILLIAM, Adm. sizar (ae 17) at Caius, 15 Apr. 1634, son of JOHN, draper, born at Bury St. Edmunds, school: Bury, matrix, 1634, B.A. 1637-8, perhaps of Hessett, Suff., clerk; will (Arch. Sudbury) 1678. (Venn, 1:313)' Note that this authority states that was born in Bury. Copinger's Suffolk Records reveal a Request for license for William Goodrich and his house at Hessett, 1672, Presbyterian (S.P. 25, License 197). The Subsidy Return for 1674, lists at Hessett in Thedwastre, Mr. Goodrich. An account of this Rev. William appears in Rev. A. G. Matthews' 'Calamy Revised' (Clarendon Press 1934), pp. 226-7, which shows that he was Vicar of Cranbrook, Kent.* (*Annals of Cranbrook Church (1870) by Tarbutt, 3d Lecture, pp 38-42, gives considerable data about this William Goodrich, minister of the gospel there from January 1652 until the end of November 1662, which disproves Johnson's assertions about him and quotes at length from Edmund Calamy's 'Account of the Ejected or Silenced Ministers,' editions of 1713 and 1727. Dr. Calamy spoke of him as 'a man of great piety.' While Goodrich was Vicar there, the registers of births or baptisms, marriages and burials were separated), 1654-1662, and had previously been Vicar of Steeple, Essex, was ejected as an Unconformist from Cranbrook in 1662, was presented for nonattendance at church; retired to Hessett in 1669, preaching there; his house licensed (Presbyterian) in 1672, etc., was educated at Bury, admitted Caius College, Cambridge, 15 April 1634, aged 17. (He evidently had no issue when he drew his will, 12 May 1677; his property went to his elder brother, John, who died in 1680 and whose fourth son, Jonathan, finally inherited the same).
- iv. Jeremy, probably born about 1620, named in father's will in 1632, no further mention found.

(page 30A) The baptism of John, son of John, 22 March 1617-18, may apply to John the immigrant, but this is uncertain. The baptism and burial in 1619 of the Henry, son of John, may apply to a brother of John the immigrant. The baptism of William, son of John, 13 February 1621-22, apparently does not apply to either William the Elder (born ante 1617) or William the Younger (said to have been born in 1617). As a John had son Jeremie, born in June 1627 and a John had daughter, Mary, born the following January 1627-28, it is evident that there were two Johns having children after the burial of John, the gentleman, in October 1626. Hence there seems some probability that the baptism of Jeremie, 24 June 1627, son of John, may apply to Jeremy, youngest brother of the immigrants, and born after 1617, and before 1632.⁷⁴

By me Anthony Rous, clerk, attorney of the abovesaid Edmund.

(Mary Lovering Holman-1948 [posthumous] Winifred Lovering Holman):⁷⁷ "WILLIAM GOODRICH, the earliest ancestor to whom this family can be traced, was born probably in Suffolk, about 1545 and was buried in Hessett in that shire, 24 Oct. 1631, 'Sepulti, Guglielmus Gotheridge vicesimo quarto Octobris.' He married about 1670, Margaret _____, who was buried in Hessett, 22 Mar. 1630-31. She was apparently the mother of all of his children.

The marriage of a William Goodrich and Margaret Richardson in Felsham in 1568 is given in the Suffolk Marriage Index at Ipswich. This is quite probably the marriage of William Goodrich of Hessett. It must be from a transcript as the earliest extant register of Felsham begins in 1656. It is stated that William was the son of an Adam Goodrich of Felsham whose will is dated 1596-97. Other records are stated to exist which, if substantiated, would give William the pedigree, Adam, Robert, John, Robert but the documents are not quoted and have not been found again...

...The records of Hessett were searched, in a somewhat sketchy fashion, years ago and the results embodied in the Goodrich Genealogy. In 1938, much more exhaustive work was done.* (*By W. L. Holman, S.B., for C. D. Stillman Esq., who kindly allowed the data to be used. She has further material). This account is based on that research and some additional work. It seems quite evident, to the present compiler, that John Goodrich was the eldest son of William. He may have been born in Felsham, if his mother belonged to that parish. In the lapse of so much specific data, conclusions have to be based on the customs of that time, the laws, etc., as well as from such vital records as may be unearthed...

... Children, born probably in Suffolk:⁷⁸

- iv. HENRY, bapt. 12 Jan. 1583-84, Hessett. He m. and prob. d. before 1631, as he is not named in his father's will. He left 2 children mentioned in his brother John's will.
- v. Susan, bapt. 30 May 1591, Hessett; m. (1) in 1618, John Lock at Lawshall, Suffolk; she m. (2), in 1628, at Bradfield Combust, John Beamond. She had children by John Lock, mentioned in her brother John's will.
- vi. Elizabeth, b. abt. 1595; m. 25 July 1623, Bradfield St. George, Philip Clarke.

JOHN GOODRICH (William), born, probably in Suffolk, about 1575, died in St. Mary's parish, Bury St. Edmunds, being buried there, 21 Apr. 1632, 'Mr. Jⁿ Gooderich clothier.' He probably had a first wife, by whom his eldest son John was born, and married secondly, in St. James', Bury St. Edmunds, 7 Aug. 1615, MARGERY HOW or HOWES, who died between the 14 Apr. and the 16 May, 1632, and was sister of Jone (How) Coats. John Goodrich was about forty when he married Margery How, that is, if he were his father's eldest son, and as he was undoubtedly his father's heir and the law of primogeniture was strong in England, there can be no doubt that he was the eldest of the sons. He was probably born in his mother's parish and if so, the law compelled his baptism there. The fact that John Sr.'s age coupled with the other fact that it is nearly impossible to have his son John, also undoubtedly the eldest son, born of the marriage to Margery, because of the birth of William-the-elder, in 1617, points to an earlier marriage. It is possible, but not probable, that he was Margery's son... The rest of (his) long and carefully drawn will clearly indicates that his son John was his eldest son... Children, probably all born in Suffolk and... in Bury St. Edmund: 79

- i. JOHN, b. after 1611; m. Elizabeth _____, and MARY (FOOTE) STODDARD.
- ii. WILLIAM-THE-ELDER, (Rev.), b. 1617, Bury St. Edmund, bur. 17 June 1678, Hessett, Suffolk; m. REBECCA _____, WHO D. 18 Nov. 1698. He is listed as a member of the Bury St. Edmunds Grammar School as 'No. 120, Goodrich, William, son of John Goodrich of Bury St. Edmunds, draper, 7 years at Dickenson; Admitted Caius Coll., April 1634, ae 17; B.A. 1638.' The list of this school begins in 1634, so even if John was also educated there, there is no record. Rev. William Goodrich d.s.p. left his property in Hessett to his brother John's eldest son, Joseph, with remainder to his next son, Jonathan, etc.; to his wife Rebecca an estate in Stow Market and at her death to his brother William Goodrich's eldest son John, remainder to William, his second son, etc.; other property to the heirs of his two brothers (Manwaring's Hartford Probate.) The correspondence proving the heirship of Jonathan is included with the account (ibid.).

THE GOODRICH GOSPEL (*Gospel=Goodspell=Good News)

WINTER - 1982

Hi Cousins!

When I sat down to start this Gospel, about the second of May, it stated: Well, looks like we may get this Winter Gospel done and mailed before the first day of Spring. Sure going to try. As you probably read, we had some record-breaking cold weather in January. Wind chills of 33 below one day. Which brings me to the "Good News and Bad News." Bad news first: From mid December through February, we both battled a strange virus. Went through our whole bodies including joints, muscles, etc. I couldn't get out for a total of four weeks and poor Gin had 65 days confinement out of the 75. One good friend has suggested, it was a sudden attack of old age!..ha!...

Then, during the rest of March, Ginny began feeling worse again. Finally, on March 20th, she went into the hospital for a week. Diagnosis: Rheumatoid Arthritis blended, of course, with the Osteo, which gradually creeps up on all of us. Prognosis: quite optomistic. Our doctor thinks we got it in time, and with therapy, rest, exercise, etc., etc., he feels that we should be able to prevent disability. Kind of turning our world around for a while, but we continue plugging on.

Now for the good news: Although we were doped up much of the time, and not working at our best, in January, were able to really plow through GFA material. Not done indexing research material by a long shot, but we did (mostly Ginny's work) get the following done since the last Gospel:

- 1. Finished Research Sheets on all families in Case's Goodrich Family; with our many additions, this added about 2,500 more sheets.
- 2. Finished ditto through six generations of William of Watertown, about 1000 sheets. Continuing towork on this.
- 3. Finished ditto on Virginia Goodriches, about 400 sheets.
- 4. Have completed a name index for every non-Goodrich name in the first six generations of "A" line. Continuing on this through all lines. Realize that this is a must; we have added so many collateral names, the book indexes are useless.
- 5. Completely worked through some twelve inches of collected research.

This is about 2000 pages, but still have about 60 inches or more to go.

- 6. Have begun rewriting, revising and updating forms.
-  Our symbol for this issue is taken from Indian Picture Writing by Robert Hofsinde (Gray-Wolf). The symbol means: The line below the figure represents the trail. The broken line indicates that he he keeping his eyes fixed on the trail.

Vol. #4, No. 4, Page #24

- 7. Have all of Burt Goodrich's Delaware County material copied, and index numbered, as far as possible, to our main index.
- 3. Most of all, have really thought about and discussed the future of GFA.

Our GFA research/family group sheet files now consist of: 60 large loose leaf binders; one large file drawer of collected research that has been entered on F.G.S.'s, two large file drawers of research, separated by states and waiting to be indexed; two drawers of member's files and GFA correspondence; and still, that apparently self-renewing pile of collected material waiting for the first steps toward organization and indexing. It seems that I can reduce it's height by two inches and overnight it grows another four. I am beginning to suspect a separate life force of it's own. All kidding aside, we are happy with what is done. When all the Research Sheets are completed, and cross-indexing done, we will be able to add new information much faster.

FORMS-RESEARCH/FAMILY GROUP SHEETS

We enclose samples of these sheets and our new Ancestor Charle instructions for using and ordering. Please read carefull your comments. We are forced to require this format for a forms to permit us to accomplish as much for each of you even though some personal touches may gradually be eliminated. Please help us grow by: encouraging relatives to join, giving memberships as gifts, contacting Goodrichs in your area, and especially by taking the time to help us distribute promotional material which we will begin sending to you with future Gospels.

Vol. #4, No. 4, Page #25

1932-83 BRINGS A REGISTRATION FEE

Last year, by all types of little economies, we were able to avoid increasing dues. For next year, we are pleased to announce that dues will remain at $10.00. However, increased costs of printing, postage, research, etc., have forced us to establish a $5.00 registration fee, in addition to first year's dues, for new and lapsed members only. It becomes effective on June 1, 1932, the start of our next dues year. After analyzing our costs, it became apparent that the initial costs of adding a new member makes the first year a losing proposition for GFA. Usual first-year-postage costs for each new member, not counting Gospels is up to about $2.20. Printing costs run about another $2.50. Add the advertising we are doing, the cost of material sent to prospective members, and we get a total of more than $5.70 direct and indirect costs to obtain and enroll each new member, plus Gospel costs. The registration fee will help defray this. In return, we are developing a new member's booklet that will do a better job of introducing members to the Association and help them to better organize their material to fit into our filing systems.

GUIDELINES FOR FAMILY HISTORY

Many of you have asked what will be in the new Family History. Are we following female lines, etc. The following are our guidelines for the present:

- 1. Include very Goodrich/Goodridge/Goodricke, etc., we can locate. If not possible to connect them to known families, include them in an "Isolated Goodrich Chapter."
- 2. Insofar as it is possible, trace the ancestry of every person marrying a Goodrich to their immigrant ancestors. We are attempting to do this, from our own research, through the first four generations of Goodrichs and will accept this type of research from all contributors, members and non-members alike, covering all generations.

How to present this information in the book? Present thoughts are to have a section of names cross-numbered as done in the Mayflower Society Publications. This permits the reader to identify spouse and to readily trace ancestors or descendants, and still list each name only once. This method can readily be used for the first four, or perhaps five generations, as families were so interconnected. For later generations, we may use a variation of the six generation ancestor tables used in the American Genealogist Magazine. Unfortunately, the Ancestor Chart format takes too much space. These tables will be located with the person being traced. When the table shares an ancestor in common with the Mayflower type Index, the ancestor tables cross reference to the Mayflower type Index.

Vol. #4, No. 4, Page #26

- 3. Then trace the descendants of all Goodrich female lines through two generations, (grandchildren of Goodrich girls). Time available to do this type of research is extremely limited. We pick up this material, when possible, from family histories, genealogical charts, DAR records, etc., while doing Goodrich research. But, researching this type of material, except for specific reasons, is almost impossible.
- 4. For the members, we plan to include direct lineal descent from a female Goodrich, no matter how many intervening generations. Obviously, those families with more members will have more of their ancestry included due to the differing lines of descent.
- 5. When it is possible, include biographical information on all Goodrichs, ancestors of members, and notable non-Goodrichs. Almost all of this material for persons born after 1350 must come from members. We occasionally pick up usable material from county histories, etc., and Goodrich/Goodridge histories have some material on the later generations, but we are asking you to start assembling your information now. The next Gospel will explain how to organize, edit, write, and present the information.

The previous descriptions probably leave something to be desired for many of you. Next Gospel will have samples of the above as they might appear in the Family History. We will be looking for comments and suggestions.

OUR TRIP (CONTINUED FROM LAST GOSPEL)

....On to Ballston Spa, New York. While we could have taken the expressways, we wanted to explore a bit, so we left Cooperstown and headed for Cherry Valley.site of the Cherry Valley Massacre. On the 11th of November 1778, Jospeh Brant, leading 300 of his indians and Tories stormed out of Canada, surprising the few settlers. Brant sacked and burned, killing about 50 and taking 70 p isoners. Many of these were tortured or tomahawked on the return to Canada. Among the prisoners was young David Ogden, then 14. It was hoped that he was one of those fortunate enough to have been killed on the trip to Canada, for it was known that most who arrived at the Canadian villages, would face the most painful and refined tortures ever perpetrated upon human beings. The most ingenious torturers were the Mohawk women, many widowed by the war, and the white men nowliving as indians. Therefore, when David suddenly appeared two years and three months after his capture, family and friends were astounded. He joined the Revolutionary forces and is reported to have served quite well. In any case, he survived to marry on the 15th of November 1738, GDCH A84A-5, Susannah Goodrich, daughter of Wait and Christian Goodrich. They moved to Franklin, Delaware County, N.Y. where he died on the 30th of October 1340 and Susannah was reunited with him in 1849.

From there, we went to see Johnson Hall, Fort Johnson and Sir William Johnson's Mansion. Sir William was the Grown Representative to the Iraquois Nation before and during the Revolution. It was he who saw to the education of Joseph Brant before the Revolution. A fascinating man of unusual accomplishment, while on an impossible assignment.

Vol. #4, No. 4, Page #27

It is a shame that his sympathies remained with the British during the Revolution. His efforts on the side of the Colonists would have made the pursuit of independance much easier, and certainly would have shortened the war. If you want to read a remarkable narrative about his life, and really gain a feel for the frontier of 1745 through the Revolution, I suggest Wilderness Empire by Allen W. Eckert. Equally as good is his The Frontiersman, the story of Simon Kenton and the settlement of Kentucky and Southern Ohio. Kenton was a contemporary and a friend of Daniel Boone. Both books are history that read like novels. Detailed, but fast-paced; these books are not for the squeamish. They tell it like it was, and that was filled with torture, desperation, stupidity, and yet remarkable bravery, loyalty, and dedication. Tomahawking, scalping and burning are the least of the cruelties. One really can understand the growth of our nation through the events in these books.

.....Late morning found us in Ballston Spa. Ballston Spa was one of the earliest Colonial resorts, established for the taking of "mineral waters and baths." Built in "style" to serve the weak and elderly, it's opulence soon drew the young. And, Ballston Spa became a marriage and honeymoon mill. Dozens of Goodrichs were married here and since it is the county seat for Saratoga County, we felt the records might produce results. On one of the coldest, bleakest days of the whole trip, we settled into an unheated room at the Ballston Historical Society and discovered many unpublished records, including dozens of Goodrichs. The Society also has the early court records, partially alphabetized by the first initial of the last name. And, we found some Goodrichs there. Not all of us were heroes, or giants of integrity, intelligence, and industry. The family has had some tragic members as well, and we found the records of a couple of those here, buried in boxes. More about those later, when we have evaluated the material and indexed it.

Specifically, we were seeking the marriage records of my Nathan Goodrich (A9E5-1) who married Rhoda Allen. Yes, there is an index number change. In the instructions on Indexing the Goodrich Family, my example gives Nathan the number A9D5-1. We have since discovered another child of Col. David (A9) causing Benjamin's index to change from A9D to A9E.

Nathan is shown in Case's Goodrich Family as having married Rhoda Allen, and in the bio of my great-grandfather, Harry 3. (A9E5-1B1), Rhoda Allen is identified as the daughter of Ira Allen, brother to Ethan Allen. I included this in an early Gospel, much to my chagrin, and I'm sure it will disappoint those also descended from Nathan and Rhoda to discover that Ira had no daughter named Rhoda. Nor did he have any daughter, that could have married Nathan! This discovery sent us on a merry chase seeking whether or not Nathan's wife had been a Rhoda Allen, and if so, her ancestry. We shortly discovered the following reference in the Allen Memorial, Vol. II; Page #35, under Descendants of Samuel Allen:

"V.Rhoda b. 28 July 1769; m.____Goodrich of Ballston, N.Y.. She died 13 Feb. 1808."

Vol. #4, No. 4, Page #28

This Rhoda is the daughter of Joseph Allen of Northampton and Pittsfield, Hancock Twp, Mass. The family were American Revolution heroes in their own right, so that part is not affected. This Rhoda was of the right age and in the right place Pittsfield, Hancock Twp. to have met and married Nathan. It was these specific records we were seeking, as well as all Goodrichs in Saratoga County. We discovered that all of the early county and church records have been sent to the New York State Library at Albany. Since we had carefully avoided the library this trip, it was too late to back track.

New member, Shirley Floeser of Albany, has really helped by working through the Ballston Church Records at the State Library- no luck on my Nathan. Any member having access to the elusive Saratoga County Records can help by abstracting them for all Goodrich references. It will help us and many of our members. Hopefully, they will be indexed; any VOLUNTEERS??? It doesn't look like we can get to the Library before 1983. While we did not get everything at the Ballston Historical Society, we probably got about 95% of their unpublished records. They had no copier so the work was extremely slow.

In the afternoon we headed for the home of members, Bill and Karen Campola at Cansevoort, New York. This is just North of Saratoga Springs. We arrived about dark on a cold rainy Thursday night. Sure glad we didn't have to depend on the camper. I'm afraid we weren't the best of company that evening as we were both groggy from so much time in the libraries.

Bill is with IBM, and they have a lovely home deep in a wooded area. It was here that I first really began to notice a heavy dependance on wood for additional heating. As Bill explained, oil cost him about $800 when oil was .40 cents a gallon, he has watched it climb to over $1.25. Through burning wood in one of those newer type cast iron fireboxes that closes in his family room fireplace opening, Bill has kept his oil bill to about the same $300. It was a pattern we were to observe throughout the rest of the trip.

Karen's Goodrich connection is through Mary Goodrich (A814-3) who married Jonathan Ufford in 1772. So after a delightful meal, and much pleasant conversation, Ginny and I gathered around the kitchen table to dig into Karen's records and to add what we could. One of the prizes Earen had for us was a newspaper clipping about a "Goodrich Family" reunion held in Saratoga Springs. Through the clipping, we were able to phone three of that family's members and we arranged to visit Frederick (Fritz) Burlett at Middlebury, Vt. the following day. Through the telephone conversations, we learned of another "Goodrich" in Saratoga Springs and were able to talk to her the following morning. We have since obtained three new members from these contacts, including Shirley Floeser, who has already sent us the Ballston records just mentioned. Exhausted, we toddled off to bed.....Friday morning came too soon, but, Karen treated us to a delightful breakfast and to more interesting conversation. We would have liked to stay and talk for hours more, but like all of us during these times, karen's schedule was filled to the brim and we had to be on our way.....thanks Karen and Bill for your most gracious hospitality and informative time.

Vol. #4, No. 4, Page #29

"On the road again".....to Middlebury, Vt. Again, we chose the back roads driving up the west side of Lake George (GORGEOUS) through heavy rains and low clouds to Fort Ticonderoga, unfortunately...closed...and by ferry boat to Vt. Lunch time found us at Middletown and an all too short meeting with Fritz Burlett. He spoke of his Goodrich connections, an elusive Truxton Goodrich, lineage unknown; and, after lunch he showed us around Middlebury formerly home of many Goodrichs. Fritz had been in charge of restoring the longest two-lane covered bridge in the United States and he is deservedly proud of his engineering and supervision. We were entranced at the workmanship, inside and out. They have maintained the bridge's integrity while eliminating some of the problems. With Fritz as a guide, we also toured Middlebury University, one of the most beautiful traditional campuses we've seen. We'll be back. Thanks Fritz.

The rains had abated during our visit with Fritz, but with heavy black clouds scudding under a deep gray sky, we were anxious to be on our way. From Middlebury, we had no choice but the back roads through Green Mountain National Forest to Interstate 89. Fritz had advised that snow had already fallen in the mountains, so we hurried on. And, as if waiting for us, as we turned East, the rains came, and stayed with us most of the day. Our goal was South Barnstead, N.H., the summer home of Marion (Scott) Goodrich (Mrs. Robert M.). South Barnstead is roughly between Concord and Rochester N.H. On the way, we passed through many Vermont and N.H. towns and villages that were early homes of Goodrichs; Hancock, Stockbridge, Bethel and Sharon, Vt.; Lebanon and Pittsfield, N.H. We also passed close to Enfield and Canterbury, N.H. location of two Shaker communities originally established by Joodrichs, Demings and Talcotts from the Shaker Communities of Hancock, Mass., and New Lebanon, N.Y. We postponed our visit to these towns to our next trip. The trip to Middlebury and the rain had delayed us.

Just at the point of total blackness, we pulled up in front of Marion's. Member Marilyn (Joodrich) Guenther, Marion's daughter, and Marion were waiting for us and we had a fun evening getting acquainted. We had planned, poorly I'm afraid, to go to the N.H. State Libraries, etc., at Cambridge, only to find that they were closed on Saturday. Recent economies have forced them to reduce their hours. It was a welcome change anyway. We needed a vacation from research.

Saturday morning, we drove to Portsmouth, N.H., and explored Strawberry Hill, an old section of Portsmouth rescued from urban renewal. It is becoming an outstanding monument to our ancestors and is well worth the trip, if you are inthe vicinity--possibly 50 older homes, many restored and refurnished, some being used as museums, and numerous fine craftsman carrying on their trades. We found traces of Goodrichs there...must research. After a lobster lunch, we headed back to Marion and Marilyn for another discussion about ancestry with some peeks at family pictures, we needed a quiet evening and a good night's sleep. Marilyn has collected significant new material on her branch: Robert M. (3) Robert V. (7); John M. (6); Charles W. (5); Samuel (7); Josiah (3); David (2); William (1) (A916-9171). This line is particularly difficult with two Charles Whiting Goodrichs (uncle and nephew) whose paths cross and recross. Marilyn has collected important material that will help all of us. Her access to the NYC Public Library Collection from her home base on Long

ol. #4, No. 4, Page #30

Island is especially valuable. For us to try NYO research on trips is terribly expensive and very slow work. Marilyn has already sent additional material.

As far as we know, by birthdate, Marion has the distinction of being our most senior member, but her choice of contemporary country casual dress, the twinkle in her eye, the spring in her step, the blush on her cheeks and her cheerful look to the future, shatter every cliche' about the "elderly!" As we headed down the country lane to her son's home, she handily led the way; linny and I were pressed to keep up. The two houses were rescued years ago by marion's husband, Robert M. Goodrich. The one Marion occupies each summer is one of great age, and simple beauty. It is sided with our favorite, naturally aged cedar shakes. When they acquired it in the 30's, it had been owned by a bachelor blacksmith who cooked in the kitchen-sitting-dining room over a low cast iron heater-range. Not even a proper cook stove. karion showed us a "before" picture of the Smith bent over a pot stirring some concoction. A rope sagged from wall-to-wall; draped precariously over the pot hung a suit of weary londhandles. I could picture him using "the flap" as a dish towel. He must have born the odorous evidence of his "culinary artistry" everywhere. Our guest room had been the smithy. The smoke-greyed, hand-hewn beams were accented by the newer, naturallymellowed, wide pine planks. Buried 'neath layers of comforters, I watched with sleepy, half-closed eyes, silverey frost-dusted branches perform a slow ballet against an inky-purple sky. Viewed throgh windows set in tiny, leaded, diamond panes, the images constantly changed - fractured -- mended -- reshaped hypnotically. So to skeep, to dream of showing horses, mending wagons, and a huge sleigh crammed with greatcoats, fur hats, lap robes and laughter-scenes from a Jurrier and Ives.

Sunday morning jolted me back to this century, and we prepared to head for Boston. For both Ginny and I, the thought of leaving hills and mountains that we love is always difficult. We know our trips must end back on the prairie. Marion and Marilyn were beginning to close the house for the winter. Marilyn returning to Long Island and Marion to head for her Florida winter home where she planned to swim in the ocean every day and that's just wonderful! I hope we can keep her image in mind as the years pass for us. We always respect a woman's right to hide her years, plus we wanted to keep you guessing, but I don't think marion will mind you knowing that she was born before 1390. Again, we made dear friends and were just as reluctant leaving them as we were the beautiful country they live in. They made us feel like we were one of their own and we thank them both dearly for it...you were both most gracious and loving to one of your "kin".

A short drive to Littleton, Mass. and the Minuteman Campgrounds, very nice for so close to a major city. Truly, huge pines canopied us blocking the sights and sounds of nearby civilization; if you plan to camp near Boston, we recommend it. As soon as we settled in, setting up our trailer, etc., we headed for Boston proper, Quincy Market and the U.S. Constitution...and that is where you will join us next Cospel. Incidentally, the U.S. Constitution (Old Iron Sides) and the U.S. Constellation are sister ships. We discovered that the Constellation, or a replica, is harbored at Baltimore. This is the ship, Captained by Caspar F. Goodrich; we told you about last Gospel.

OUR RESEARCH PLANS

A very few of our members, particularly those with more Southern Connections, have commented on our apparent New England fixation. We definitely are progressing toward the Southern States, and we are busy collecting material now. But, everytime we have tried to make sense out of the Southern records, we get directed back North again. There were several definite branches that began in Virginia and Maryland. And, another that may have started in North Carolina. However, as they spread out, they become so intermingled with Goodrichs from New England, that we must trace the Southern movement of the New Englanders in order to separate the lines. The same is true for Ens. William and William of Watertown. Two examples: 1. In Marilyn Guenther's family, Goodrichs went from New York to New Orleans to Virginia, to New York, and then to Michigan, back to Rhode Island and then New Hampshire and Mass.

2. A Daniel Goodrich descended from Ens. William and a Daniel Goodridge (shortly changed in many records to coodrich) descended from William of Watertown, arrived in Moravia, N.Y. about the same time. They were about the same age, etc. We are just now getting them separated.

AN OURSTANDING SUCCESS

Sometimes it seems like those lost ancestors will never be found, but "keep the faith baby." Bernice Brown had just about given up on us. Several genealogists failed her, another "so-called-professional" genealogist of New Hampshire has taken her money and will not even respond to her letters. She was quite discouraged. We had just written a note telling her no luck as yet; when that night. ... while routinely posting research, we identified her George W. Goodrich; traced his ancestry to William of Watertown and identified 59 ancestors at one crack. Our method does work, but it takes time.

"BURT" GOODRICH'S MATERIAL HAS REALLY HELPED

There is a wealth of additional material, and we are fitting it in, but beyond that and more important, it has made us very aware of the effects conflicting records have on locating ancestors. Our records have Charles Burget Goodrich A9D4-172, but we couldn't find what happened to him. Naturally....he is Burget C. in all the later records. Because of the detail in Burt's research, such patterns clearly show; probate records are especially important. Even newspaper accounts of the same event often show different names, dates, or places: Names Change: Amanda becomes Amasa, Angus shows as Andrew, Anna is also Adelia. It seems that we can't leave any stone unturned, or is it any turn unstoned? Therefore, if you get stuck, think of every possible combination of names and aliases, don't settle for middle initials...get us that middle name.

DREAMING ABOUT A TRIP TO THE BRITISH ISLES?

Many members have said they are planning to ancestor hunt in the British Isles. Some to continue in Europe, We also have been making some vague future plans. We now wonder if a GFA trip might be possible: We could probably save money, accomplish more, and have a darn good time as a group. Preliminary checking suggests we could fly to London, be coached on arrival by an expert in British research, have our own chartered Van or Bus, and do Britain properly. If there were enough of us, we could arrange for a genealogist to accompany us, serve as a guide, and help with difficult research. Off hand, we could see: Goodrich Castle, Essex, Suffolk, Yorkshire, London and more. Let's have your thoughts and suggestions. We are thinking of 1983 if possible. perhaps 1934. Let's all think about it. Send us your ideas now and let us know who is interested so we can get a head count. Ginny and I can put it all together, and we will get the prices as soon as we have a better feel for what most of you would want. We know it's a dream for many of us, with the economy what it is, but together, we just might be able to make our dreams come true!

NEW CLUES TO RICHARD GOODRICH OF GUILFORD

Very little has been knownabout Richard Goodrich (GDCH-C), who was one of the original planters of Guilford, Ct. in 1639. It has been speculated that he was a grandson of Sir Richard of Ribston, and a son of John Goodricke (Goodrich) of Ribston, who came to "Virginia" in 1635. After Searching all of the documents, I have not found a true listing of John Sris children. I will continue to check---There's a couple of books about the Yorkshire-Ribston Goodrich's English history available. Several sources do establish the lineageof Sir Richard Goodrick, Knight of Ribston. He had children: William, Henry, Robert, Ralph, John, Richard, Francis, and a daughter Margaret, not necessarily in that order. Son Henry became knight of Ribston in 1612 and stayed in England; he may have been the eldest son, contrary to the guesses of some. Then, from records collected in England by Rear Admiral Caspar F. Goodrich:son John married , emigrated to Virginia in 1635 and with him came Henry, Richard, John and William." Note that the quoted part does not say that any of these were John Sr.'s. sons. Yet, when this statement from Case's Goodrich Family in America has been copied by other researchers, including Merton Taylor Goodrich, it frequently states: "......with him came his sons....." Also, note that Caspar's source was a manuscript done about 1820. Richard may have been John Sr.'s son, but he could have been John's brother; and John's sister, Margaret could well be the very recently discovered ... MARGARET GOODRICKE OF RIBSTON WHO MARRIED RICHARD BAYLDON (BELDEN) IN ENGLAND, EMMIGRATED, AND SETTLED IN GUILFORD ABOUT 1638-9. We have found no records in Virginia which even hint that John Sr. or (brother/son) Richard arrived or settled there. Records do prove that Henry and John, Jr. settled in Va. but nothing proves that it was in

John, Jr.in a 1698 deposition stated he was living in Isle-of-Wight County as early as 1638. From the recent discovery that a Margaret Goodricke of Ribston married Richard Belden and came to Guilford, from many other bits and pieces of information and from lack of Information. I have developed some tentative theories:

- A. When John Sr. "emigrated to Virginia", Virginia may have simply meant the new world.
- B. The group from Ribston, may well have arrived in Mass. in 1635 and included brothers, sisters and cousins of John, Sr. as well as children.

Vol. #4, No. 4, Page #33

- C. John, Sr. could easily have been the elusive John who had land transactions in and around Watertown, Mass. and disappeared sometime after he became a freeman in 1642. He could be the John who died at sea in 1644 while returning to England to claim an uncle's inheritance.
- D. William of Watertown (D) may be the William who accompanied John, Sr. to "Wirginia", no further reference to him exists in Virginia or family records. Since William (D) was married in England--see previous lospels, it is questionable if he could have been the right age to be a son of John, but no statement says he was. If they did travel together, William was more likely John, Sr.'s brother or cousin.
- E. Henry and John, Jr. travel down the coast and take up residence in Virginia by 1638.
- ${\tt F.}$ Margaret and her husband with Richard become first planters of Guilford.
- G. William stays in Watertown.

All neatly accounted for and all very possible. But, only theories, not much to go on as yet. It does, however, direct my search. We know that Margaret is a familiar name in the Goodrickes of Ribston. Which Margaret went to Guilford? That is the first question to answer. Then, did she have a brother, cousin, or uncle: Richard? Was there a large group that left Ribston in 1635 which included Goodrickes and what ship did they take? What was their destination? Any clues in the Belden Records? It will keep us busy for a while....

JOHN AND ENS. WILLIAM OF WETHERSFIELD (CONTINUED FROM LAST GOSPEL)

As it was explained in Gospel Vol. I. No. 4, Ens. William and his brother John were orphaned by the death of their father, mother and grandparents in 1631 and 1632 and Clement Chaplin, an uncle became their guardian. Clement came to the Colonies on the Elizabeth and Ann in 1635. He first settled at lambridge, but was in Hartford by 1636. He drew land at Wethersfield in 1639 indicating he was a resident prior to that. Land records did not start till late 1640; his land was recorded in April 1641 (the first month of 1641, old calendar). What ship brought Clement's wife, Sarah (Hinds) and the two Goodrich boys to Mass. has not been identified. Clement's sister, Martha, married Robert Parker of Woolpit, Suffolk, and they emmigrated early, settling at Roxbury (now Boston) Mass. Perhaps the records of Robert Parker's passage may show that his sister-in-law and the Goodrich boys came over with him. It is probable Tlement was joined by his wife and the boys at Cambridge in 1636, and the family became part of Rev. Thomas Hooker's party that went to Hartford. Rev. Hooker was a native of Bury St. Edmund's and many of his Hartford congregation had followed him from England to Mass. and then to the Hartford wilderness. Sarah and the Goodrich boys were apparently with Tlement in Hartford and accompanied him to Wethersfield, probably early in 1637.

The records state that Clement Chaplin was an important man, but also overbearing. He was Treasurer of the Colony in 1637, a deputy in 1639, 43, and 44. He was ruling elder of the Wethersfield church, and was fined in 1643 for signing a paper "defaming Rev. Henry Smith." John Goodrich was also fined for the same offense. The absences of Ens. William's signature is another bit of evidence pointing to his being younger than John, for in 1643 he would have just become 21 and was not yet a freeman of the church qualified to sign the petition.

About 1646-1650, Clement and his wife returned to England to claim an estate and Clement died there before 1660. Clement's wife returned to New England by 1661 and settled in Roxbury with her sister-in-law, and possibly some of her own relatives. Records should be searched for passage of "Hinds" from Bury. This left John and William in Wethersfield. Clement had bought the homestead of John Brundish containing a house, buildings and three acres of land. On 16 Mrch 1644 it was transferred from Clement to John--whether by sale or gift is not known. Perhaps it was first bought with funds from the Estates of the boy's parents and grandparents. Clement also probably arranged for Ens. William to acquire his first lands in Wethersfield, for on 3 Jan 1646, Ens. William recorded his homestead bought from Thomas Ufford and consisting of a house, barn, and 6 acres which was bordered on one side by the homestead of Clement Chaplin. (TO BE CONTINUED IN NEXT GOSPEL).

In rereading this Gospel, I must admit it is not the distinct striking copy we wished it had been (I wasn't a very good secretary and didn't check my film carbon before I went into the hospital).....we know you will understand. Ginny (me) is having a great deal of problems with typing right now, and both of our health problems have placed great demands on our time. My hands will get better with a little therapy and patience, in time I know for the next Gospel, of course.

I am now starting on the Spring Cospel and this will definitely include the Member's Directory which was planned for this one.

THE GOODRICH GOSPEL

(*Gospel=Goodspell=Good News)

WINTER 1983 (Delayed)

Hi Cousins,

Because of delays, this Gospel is going out to all members, whether paid or not, to all new members whether you have received your membership information or not, and all who have written to us about GFA. It will serve as a sample copy for those who have requested one. We will get into all of the back correspondence and record-keeping shortly. To bring you up-to-date:

I have had a most fortunate change in employment. This time it was my decision, and represents a significant increase in responsibilities and compensation. I have been in the new work since March of this year, and therein lies the reason that I am so far behind with GFA. As Eastern Regional Manager for Littelfuse, my work requires about 60% travel. In addition, above and beyond my normal job responsibilities, I am preparing an application manual for the company under seperate contract. Since my primary duties include introducing a new product line and working with all new manufacturer's representatives and distributors, the demands on my time have been unusual. However, I am now getting settled in the job, and the manual's outline is complete, and being reviewed, which gives me a breather and time to start getting caught up on GFA.

The new position has definite advantages for GFA:

One. Extensive travel in the East. I have been able to do a bit of genealogical research at several libraries and archives, and expect to do more as my evenings become more free. As time permits, I will also be able to visit with members who have the time and inclination. My territory extends from the Western borders of Ohio and Alabama East, from the Canadian border to the Florida keys; and it includes all of Kentucky. Those of you who would like to visit for a spell, drop me a note, and I can let you know in advance when I am going to be in your area. I fly to the major cities, and work with manufacturer's representativers, so I seldom have a car, but we can make out somehow.

Two, I have had to acquire a computer and printer to handle the paperwork for my position, and the extra writing I am doing. It is available for GFA. The first two pages are my rewrite on the computer. Computer description is on last page.

I write this Gospel with deep affection and amazement, and the first reason is your response to our request for assistance in obtaining a printer.

VOL. III:4

As you can see, I have done this on my own. However, you responded with more than $$300\,$ for the printer. I am certain, if I had been keeping up with the Gospels, we would have received more than enough to have bought one.

None of the money has been spent. If your check has cleared the bank, we have records of all who gave. If the check has not cleared, we have it in our files. With your permission, we will use the money to purchase a powerful software program set up specifically for family associations. It will make our work much easier, and will assist us in finding answers to your many knotty problems. If any of you wish a return of your contribution, let us know within 60 days, as we will probably go ahead with the purchase by then. We are reviewing genealogical software now.

Another reason for both affection and amazement, has been your patience at my delays. Some of you have called, and have been most understanding, others have written. Some of you have been questioning, and I can't blame you, I would be too. Many thanks for your patience. We will work our way out of the log jam. The reunion is the way to start.

REUNION

Again, your response has been phenominal! I only hope my delays have not caused any of you to change your mind, for it will a good one with enough in attendance. We have recorded over fourty replies expressing serious interest in the reunion, and indicating 70 or more will probably attend. We are also planning a direct mailing to about 200 New England Goodrichs, and that should bring in some additional attendees. I am sure when I wade through the pile of correspondence, I will find more who are inbterested.

Our plans have firmed up......

FIRST NATIONAL GOODRICH FAMILY REUNION

WHENOctober 5, 6, and 7, 1984

WHERE

Wethersfield, CT. to coincide with the 350th Anniversary Celebratrion commemorating the founding of Wethersfield.

ACCOMODATIONS

Ramada Inn, Wethersfield, CT.

Full details are enclosed, and you may proceed to make your own reservations. The Ramada Inn is an excellent motel with modern comfortable rooms. While we would have preferred a somewhat lower cost, the choices in or conveniently near Wethersfield are limited. It really narrowed down to the Ramada. However, they are very accommodating to GFA. We are being furnished a complimentary reception room or parlor for our continuous use, they have excellent dining accommodations at moderate cost for the East. It is a full service motel and it is convenient to everything in the area. Unfortunately, we have to live with the fact that the entire urban area of the East is higher priced and higher taxed than many areas. Ramada has given us a group discounted rate of $44.51 single and $51.28 double all taxes included. Rooms have two double beds. Children under 18 are free in room with parents. $7.00 per additional adult. Pets are welcome. Limo service from and to Bradley International Airport.

VOL. III:4:29

PRELIMINARY SCHEDULE

FRIDAY

Reception Room Ramada Inn

Registration from noon to 6:00 p.m. Informal socializing noon to 5:00. If enough of you will be arriving by 1:00 p.m. and you have indicated an interest, we will plan small group visits to Wethersfield Historical Society Museum and Library. They have a small, but excellent collection for local research. Also, some of you will want to browse Old Wethersfield Center, perhaps to visit the Joseph Webb House (1752) where George Washington slept and planned the final campaign. The Silas Deane House (1766) and the Isaac Stevens House (1788) are all close together and are excellent examples of pre-revolution living. They have gift shops and tours. Nearby are Rocky Hill, Glastonbury, Hartford, Windsor and other towns that were homesteads for many Goodrichs. All have historical sites ancient cemetaries, etc.

5:00 - 6:00 p.m. - Reception room. Gathering of the clan. Social hour to get acquainted, relax and plan.

6:30 - 7:00 p.m. - Dining Room. Short business meeting. Discussion of goals and distribution proposed by-laws for review.

7:00 p.m. - Dinner followed by History of early Goodrich immigrants.

9:00 p.m. - Reception room open for socializing.

SATURDAY

7:30 a.m. - Registration continues.

7:30-9:00 a.m. - Continental breakfast. If enough pre-register, we will have private dining room, otherwise in reception room or coffee shop.

VOL.III:4:30

SATURDAY (CONTINUED)

9:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. - FREE TIME TO SCHEDULE ON YOUR OWN. No part of Conn. is more than 75 miles from Wethersfield, via excellent roads. There is inter-town bus service. We will have suggested activities and places to visit. Some suggestions:

Wethersfield Old House Tour 10:00 to 4:00 p.m. Wethersfield Historical Society Museum and Library Old Sturbridge Village (Mass.) Old Mystic, CT. whaling town.

Hartford, CT: Old State House, State Library, Historical Society, Mark Twain and Harriet Beecher Stowe Houses, State Capitol with many historical displays, Wadsworth Atheneum and art museum. Also in the greater Hartford area are New Britain, Farmington, Rocky Hill, Newington, Manchester, Middletown, etc. Each has it's historical society, cemetaries, old homes, and each were homes of early Goodrich and associated families.

We will have maps, and further suggestions at the registration desk. We would hope that trips could be arranged in small groups to a variety of locations. The reception room will be open all day for discussions, analysis of genealogical questions, etc.

4:30 - 5:30 p.m. - Social hour, time to swap stories and tell of day's discoveries.

 $\frac{6:00 \text{ p.m.}}{\text{adoption}}$ - Dining Room. Business meeting election of officers and adoption of By-laws.

7:00 p.m. - Dinner

 $8:00~\rm{p.m.}$ - Conclusion of business meeting, if necessary, followed by presentation on English History on all Goodrich branches. Following dinner, reception room open.

SUNDAY

7:30 - 9:00 a.m. - Continental breakfast.

9:00 - noon - Attend Church of your choice, or exploring as on Saturday.

Noon - Check out of rooms.

1:00 - until - Picnic or buffett, weather permitting outdoors. Discussion groups for various branches of the family. We will be available to suggest side trips for those with time on way home, and finally to bid a fond adieu to all.

Note that we have moved the business meeting to Saturday, as some have indicated they would need to start for home about noon. There will be other activities planned for the family reunion weekend in Wethersfield and I am sure some of you will want to contact other families in search of ancestors. Also, there may be some type of joint meeting with speakers. We will let you know.

David Goodrich, now living in or near Fairfield, CT. responded quickly and volunteered to arrange accommodations. He has done a really super job. First shopping the entire area to see what was available and then working with the Ramada to get maximum discounts, reserved block of rooms, etc. We have had other volunteers and we are waiting for their responses before we advise you.

The Activities Committee is still in need of a chairperson, preferably some one fairly close to Wethersfield. We can give volunteers all the direction they require and can furnish names to contact, etc. it is just very difficult to handle from this distance. If you have never done anything like this before, don't hesitate to volunteer, we'll help, and so will Dave Goodrich.

There is a new Reunion questionerre with this Gospel and we have included two copies, so you may keep one for yourself as a reminder. Again, we want to emphasize that this is only a questionerre, not a registration form. You are not committing yourself to anything at this time. The purpose is to give us some idea of how many, for how long and what activities interest you. The advance registration form will come later and will require deposits, etc. We must first determine the approximate size of the group.

RESEARCH AID

Connecticut Biography and Portrait INDEX - contains more than 150,000 entries directing you to biographical sketches and portraits of Conn. people from 1600's to present. Hundreds of town, state, country, church, fraternal, governmental, military, occupational histories, etc. have been researched for this index. While you won't get much actual information, you will be directed to the right publication. Many genealogical libraries may have this index. However, Thomas J. Kemp, P.O. Box 4050, Stamford, CT. will search each name for $1.00. Also enclose a business size SASE.

ANOTHER VALUABLE SOURCE

Our Constitution guarantees every citizen the right to petition Congress for just about anything. In the early years, many citizens excercized this right. Most were seeking compensation for military service, pensions or for losses incurred because of governmental action or war. This data can be helpful in genealogical work. Especially those seeking to establish proof of military service.

A book titled: "List of Private Claims to the House of Representatives of the United States from the 1st to the 31st Congress Inclusive"... lists each claimant by name, the nature of the claim, when it was presented and the disposition of the claim. It is my understanding that your U. S. Representative can readily obtain copies of the actual petitions. I suggest you locate the above book (it is available on Inter-library loan)search it for names of interest, and write your Congressman. We have just requested all of the Goodrich-Goodridge material and will let you know what we find. If you obtain information on your ancestors, send us copies. If you can't locate the book, we will trek to the library and copy any surname, for $3.00 for first surname and $.25 for each additional name or page.

ANY ARTISTS OUT THERE?

The time has come for us to consider letterhead paper, membership cards and suitable masthead for the Gospel. Any volunteers? If you are interested, please submit your sketches and we'll try to choose. Perhaps, let members decide at the reunion. One year's free membership to the successful designer!

Re: SEYMOUR

Someone of you is searching for Seymour ancestors and descendants. Volume 73 of the New England Genealgical and Historical Society Register has an article "Descendantsof Richard Seymour." I would check it, but at the moment I cannot recall who needs the information and which Seymour they are seeking. I'll be glad when all of the member's files are in the computer. Then I can check quickly.

RESEARCH HELP WANTED

Can any of you help in obtaining the Goodrich information from the following references. Simply photo copy the pages.

- 1. Monthly Bulletin of the Genealogical Forum of Portland, OR. 1964 Address: 4540 N.E. 22nd Ave., Portland II, OR. Volume No. 12 issue 5 (Presume May) Page #39 Goodrich Bible Records.
- 2. Historical Wyoming (Wyoming County, N.Y.), published by Board of Supervisors, Arcade, N.Y. Vol. 3 1964 (reference here is vague). Also given as Historical Wyoming 17-3 (presume issue 3) Page #87, look for: A letter from C. E. Goodrick to David Wylie "Army Days in Iowa 1836."

The above references could contain some valuable clues for several GFA members.

CHURCH HISTORIES CAN BE VALUABLE SOURCES OF INFORMATION

To a great extent, ifyou trace the spread of our early churches, you trace the migration and settlement of our nation. Libraries have numerous books that locate the archives of various denominations. Writing for these records can be frustrating; personell available to respond are frequently very limited.

More readily available are printed histories of specific parishes. Most early churches issued letters of dismissal when a member changed parishes or denominations. Also, many County Histories have short church histories; and they usually list early or founding members and officers.

VOL. III:4:33

The churches receiving new members frequently listed, "Admitted by letter of dismissal from _____." and they name the dismissing church. This is most helpful.

One series of books is proving very helpful to us and I am sure you will want to check it for names you are tracing. It is: Religion On The American Frontier by Sweet. There are several volumes each pertaining to a denomination. Volume one is Baptists. Beginning in CT. ca 1741, and through 1751, Shubal Stearns with others, went to Virginia (mostly the less settled Western part) and then spread to Guilford County, N.C. They were preaching the separatist-Baptist faith. Colonial Virginia, as opposed to New England, had maintained the Church of England as the only recognized faith. The Colonial Government tended tooverlook Presbyterian, Lutheran, and other denominations, if they preached only to their Scotch, German and Huegenot settlements. However, the government moved quickly to stop Baptist, Quaker and other evangelists who were trying to win converts and establish new churches with Church of England members. The evangelist's critisizm of the official church was treated as sedition and as critisizm of the Colonial Government, which was true, part, though not all, of the time.

James Goodrich and his brother were preaching the Baptist faith in Western Virginia during this time and possibly up to the pre-Revolutionary period. They were arrested, convicted of preaching a seperatist faith without license to preach and were fined. James' ancestry has not been definitely defined. He may have been one of the local Goodrichs and an ardent convert, or he may have been a New England traveling evangelist. We have not found any certain references to him after he was fined. It is possible that he headed West to more tolerant land. The Baptist faith rapidly spread over the mountains into Franklin, Tenn. and Kentucky. Between 1780 and 1786 the Holston Baptist Association established Eastern Tenn. Churches at Kendrick's Creek, Bent Creek, Beaver Creek, Greasy Grove, Cherokee, North Fork of Holston, and the Lower French Broad (Road?). The Sulphur Fork Church in N.C. went to Eastern Tenn. about 1797. The Sandy Creek N. C. church founded in 1755 rapidly spread and started 142 churches. We will continue to work on this for names, etc. and hope to find James Goodrich again. We appreciate all the help we can get. In particular, we need to try and locate the records from all the above churches.

Other valuable sources are back issues of Nationally distributed religious newspapers put out by various faiths. Seventh Day Baptists, Seventh Day Adventists, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, Shakers and Quakers were particularly active. These papers carried birth, death, marriage and relocation announcements for the entire country. For example, the Seventh Day Baptist paper originally published in Alfred, N.Y. carried almost every vital records for it's members in Milton, Wisconsin. Seek such papers, they can prove to be most helpful.

MOSES AND JOHN B. GOODRICH

From Treetalks, Publication of Central N.Y. Gen. Soc., Vol. 1-2: Daybook of Dr. Jonas C. Baldwin who had general store at Baldwins-ville, N.Y: "Two men sick, quit boarding here 14 July, 1813. John B. and Moses Goodrich."

Baldwinsville is in Onondaga County. Perhaps a clue to the ever elusive Moses Goodrich several of us seek.

RESEARCH TIP

Treetalks publication of Central N.Y. Gen. Soc. has been publishing: wills, administrations, and guardianship papers from various counties in N.Y. These records contain references to families that otherwise may have disappeared. If you have hit dead ends in N.Y. state (haven't we all) you might check out the back issues. Many libraries have them.

SHARE YOUR NEHGS MEMBERSHIP

The Autumn 1984 Newsletter of The New England Historic Genealogical Society announced a new program for all members. Since manyof you are members of NEHGS, perhaps GFA can use this program to our benefit. Beginning in 1983, each NEHGS member may appoint a friend or a researcher as a proxy-member for a two day period. Since some GFA members wish to do research at the library and are not NEHGS members, and some of you are members of NEHGS and will not use your proxy rights, it would be nice if you could make them available to GFA members, who might be able to check something for you at the With the reunion coming in October, these proxy rights could be a big help. Remember assigning your proxy rights does not affect a member's rights to use the library. If each NEHGS member who will not be assigning their proxy rights to anyone else will let us know and if each member of GFA who plans to be in Boston for research before Nov. 1, 1984, will advise us, we'll try to make a match up. Our proxy rights are available - first to anyone planning on attending the reunion and if no takers to any GFA member. Write now, the first request received will get the proxy. We would hope that the proxies will be used first for Goodrich related research and will expect research results to be shared with GFA.

MAYFLOWER DESCENDANTS

There are a number of Goodrich lines that can be traced to Mayflower pilgrims. We don't claim to have them all, so if any of you know of any others, please advise. Beginning with this Gospel, we will trace one line each issue until we have covered all those we know.

VOL. III:4:35

If you need documentation, I suggest you contact the nearest Mayflower Society and find out what they require now. They have been insisting on new documentation. Those we list have been recognized by the Mayflower Society and the numbers shown are the Mayflower Society Ancestor Numbers. Most recent names are shown first:

GOODRICH NAME IN AMERICA

Goodrich ranks 1273 among the most common sur-names in America. In 1964 there were 22,150 Goodrich listings. In 1980:25,627. I am not sure what sources were checked, but all names were from same sources, so list is reasonably correct. I out of every 8,662 people would be a Goodrich. The first ten names are Smith, Johnson, Williams, Brown, Jones, Miller, Davis, Wilson, Anderson, and Taylor. My list only has the 2000 most common. If you are curious about other sur-names, send me a list and an SASE and I'll be happy to check.

VOL. III:4

I have a Compaq, luggable computer. I am using Microsoft Word with mouse for my word processing, and have nothing but raves to say about it. It will do the new family history just fine. I am also using Lotus 1-2-3 spread sheet program for several GFA applications, including starting on the member's files. I have experimented with using its data management capabilities for GFA genealogical files, but am not that satisfied with it. We need something that is more "form friendly."

REUNION POSTSCRIPTS

David Goodrich, continuing his really dedicated service to GFA, has worked with new member, Mary Goodrich Jenson, to plan a really super Sunday reception at her home. Mrs Jenson's family has lived in Wethersfield continuously since 1635. She is a decendant of Ensign William Goodrich. David tells me that she has a large beautiful yard very suitable for such a party, and I know we will all enjoy. More later.

Ignore the comments about chairpersons and reunion questionerre, time is too short, arrangements have all been made. Just send your reservation directly to the Ramada Inn ASAP, so we will have the roomks. They have been patiently holding them for us. I am sure David has helped in this.

Meals are reasonable, and all arrangements have been made.

We will send more shortly. C'mon, join in the fun. Regaedless of the delays in my writing, we will have a good reunion. I will be in Wethersfield on business two weeks before the reunion, so I can clear up any problems, and we will arrive in the area on vacation about October 1, and be there through the reunion. So things will get taken care of, albeit, hectically. Please excuse spelling errors, no time to correct.

MEMBER JOYCE GOODRICH, Ph.D. 315 East 68th Street, Box 9G, New York, NY 10021 HAS MADE ARRANGEMENTS TO HAVE CASE'S GOODRICH FAMILY MEMORIAL REPRINTED IN ITS ENTIRETY. IT WILL BE A QUALITY BOOK, WITH SPECIAL ATTENTION TO OBTAINING GOOD COPIES OF THE PHOTOS AND ART WORK. TH9IS IS NOT A XEROGRAPHIC STYLE REPRODUCTION, BUT A QUALITY BOOK WITH QUALITY BINDING. THOSE WHO ARE INTERESTED SHOULD WRITE HER FOR FULL DETAILS. THIS IS THE BOOK THAT HAS BEEN REVIEWED AND REFERENCED IN THE GOSPELS, WHILE IT HAS ERRORS, IT IS OF HISTORICAL INTEREST AT THE LEAST, AND WILL HAVE MORE BIOGRAPHICAL DATA ON SOME OF THE FAMILIES THAN WE WILL BE ABLE TO INCLUDE IN THE NEW HISTORY.

Goodrich Surname DNA Project: January 2024 Summary Update

~ Editor

The Goodrich Surname DNA Project has: 93 Y-STR kits, 58 mt-DNA kits, 94 Family Finder kits, and 46 kits with a confirmed Y-SNP haplogroup.

A major advance in Y-SNP testing that became available in 2013-2014 is NGS Y-SNP testing. Recall that the Ensign William¹ Goodrich group has the Y-SNP signature (in condensed order by ancient to recent left-to-right):

Additional geographic diversification of Non-Goodrich E-Z16242 has occurred recently. E-Z16242 has been seen so far in Brazil and Puerto Rico (likely from Portugal or Spain), and Armenia, and most recently has been found in Azerbaijan, Turkey and Hungary.

More details will be provided in the 25 April 2024 newsletter.
