Shared Ancestry of Immigrants William Goodridge; John, William, Thomas Goodrich ~ By Stephen D. Goodrich, Ph.D.

Surname spelling is irrelevant, since the 4 parish records of Woolverstone, Suffolk, England for the family of William<sup>1</sup> Goodridge had surname spelling Goodrich 3 times and Gudrich once.<sup>[5]</sup> And in early Wethersfield records, John Goodrich had surname spelling Goodridge.<sup>[6]</sup> Review of the Felsham Goodrich ancestry<sup>[7]</sup> reveals a plausible preliminary placement and new information.

ROBERT GOODRICH of Felsham appeared on the 1568 Felsham subsidy return. His will, dated 26 June 1563 and proved 22 February 1569/70, named wife Elizabeth, principal heir ADAM, and children Thomas, WILLIAM, Emma, Elizabeth and John. Burial of "Elizabeth alias Isabella Goodrich, widow" was recorded at Hessett, where son William resided, on 9 August 1579.

WILLIAM GOODRICH of Hessett married Margaret Richardson on 7 November 1568 at the parish of St. Peter-Felsham, which lacks baptisms 1569-1570; 1572-1573. [11] St. Ethelbert-Hessett lacks 1569-1574 baptisms (Figure 2). [12] Hessett baptisms for William and Margaret Goodrich: [13]

- i. Robert, bp. 5 May 1577.
- ii. William II, bp. 11 September 1580.
- iii. Henry, bp. 12 January 1583/4.
- iv. Susan, bp. 30 May 1591.

Henry is listed as the 3rd son,<sup>[14]</sup> and a 6 October 1585 Hessett deed of feoffment<sup>[15]</sup> named: William Gooderitche and Robert his son,<sup>[16]</sup> so Robert was the eldest son. Average baptism spacing 42 months may place unlisted John near 1587; Elizabeth near 1573 (if eldest) or 1594. After burial of wife Margaret at Hessett on 22 March 1630/1,<sup>[17]</sup> William I Goodrich of Hessett, whose will was dated 4 April 1631 and proved 2 February 1631/2, left Hessett land and buildings to son John, £16 to his older son William II Goodrich, and £8 each to his daughters Elizabeth and Susan.<sup>[18]</sup> He was buried as Gulielmus Gotheridge on 24 October 1631 at Hessett (Figure 2).<sup>[19]</sup>

WILLIAM II GOODRICH of Hessett married Barbara Cole on 16 May 1608 as Willimus Gutteredge, and was buried as Gulielmus Gutrige on 7 August 1645. He baptized two sons, the eldest with no first name, yet if his paternal grandfather or father was his namesake, his name was William:<sup>[20]</sup>

- i. (blank space) Goodritche, bp. before 1 October 1609.
- ii. Robert Goodritche, bp. 29 August 1619.

The elder son (Figure 2) may be WILLIAM<sup>1</sup> GOODRIDGE of Watertown, Massachusetts, a Y-DNA descendant of whom has a most-recent-common-ancestor (MRCA) at Y67 within 12 generations of the Y-DNA descendants of Ensign William<sup>1</sup> Goodrich with probability as high as 78-91%. [21]

JOHN GOODRICH THE CLOTHIER married at Bury St. James, Bury St. Edmunds on 7 August 1615 his only known wife Margerie Howes, [22] daughter of John and Margery (Lonsdale) Howes, who were married 18 June 1582 at Bury St. Mary, Bury St. Edmunds, [23] site of the baptism of Margerie on 15 December 1588, and site of the baptisms of 4 children of "John Goodrich:" [24]

- i. John, bp. 22 March 1617/8.
- ii. Henry, bp. 14 November 1619; buried 28 November 1619.
- iii. WILLIAM, bp. 13 February 1621/2.
- iv. Jeremy, bp. 24 June 1627.

Immigrant LT.-COLONEL THOMAS<sup>1</sup> GOODRICH arrived in Lower Norfolk County, Virginia by April 1651, and relocated to Old Rappahannock County, Virginia by December 1656.<sup>[25]</sup> Thomas and eldest son Benjamin joined other planters in Bacon's Rebellion of 1676. The planters were protesting government corruption, depressed tobacco prices and oppressive taxes, and attacks by Native Americans that the Royal Governor, Sir William Berkeley, was handling ineffectively. The planters, led by Nathaniel Bacon, took matters into their own hands and attempted to overthrow the Royal Governor before order was restored, in the first American civil war.<sup>[26]</sup>

Mr. Thomas Goodrich died soon after Bacon's Rebellion. His will, [27] proved 3 April 1679, left 10,000+ acres to wife Anne (Thresh) Goodrich and children Benjamin, Joseph, Charles, Anne, Peter and Katherine. [29] Y-DNA test results have proven that Thomas Goodrich of Rappahannock co-descended from the Felsham Goodrich ancestry, [30] and link him to County Suffolk. Thomas stated in 1654 his age was 40. [31] Of three Suffolk Goodrich men with a son Thomas baptized in 1614-1615, one carried the title Mr.: John Goodrich, Alderman of Bury St. Edmunds. [32], [33]

JOHN GOODRICH THE ALDERMAN. A wealthy felt-maker and landowner whose 30 June 1625 will, proved 1 March 1625/6, bequeathed land and buildings in Bury St. Edmunds and Ipswich to wife Martha, descending to principal heir and sole executor John, and bequeathed £100 each to Benjamin, Francis, THOMAS, Martha and Susan. His will and records of Bury St. Mary, where Lovering-Holman surmised in 1948 that as many as 3 men named John Goodrich were having children baptized at the same time (Figure 1), [35] revealed: [36], [37]

- i. John, no baptism found; principal heir-executor of father's will.
- ii. Henry, bp. 6 April 1595.
- iii. Elizabeth, bp. 21 March 1596/7; buried 11 March 1604/5.
- iv. Martha, bp. 26 February 1598/9.
- v. Benjamin, bp. 20 January 1600/1.
- vi. Anne, bp. 12 January 1602/3.
- vii. Susan, bp. 9 February 1603/4.
- viii. Mary, bp. 24 May 1605; buried 18 June 1616.
- ix. Katherine, bp. 1 March 1606/7; buried 18 April 1607.
- x. Francis, bp. 6 May 1610.
- xi. Robert, bp. 20 March 1613/4; buried 13 June 1616.
- xii. THOMAS, bp. 14 April 1615.

All children of John Goodrich the Alderman were baptized at least one year apart, with average spacing of  $24 \pm 11$  months. Of 12 names, 5 are in the 1625 will, <sup>[38]</sup> The father for burials of Mary and Robert is John Goodrich, Alderman, and for baptism of Thomas was Mr. John. <sup>[39], [40]</sup>

Lillian Redstone, distinguished archivist and records preserver, was the first Ipswich-East Suffolk Joint Archivist. All records shown are children with a father named John Goodrich: 1) 11 children from Henry bp. 6 April 1595 to Thomas bp. 15 April 1615 belong to Mr. John Goodrich the Alderman, Gentleman, 2) John bp. 22 March 1617/18, Henry bp. 14 November 1619, William bp. 13 February 1621/22, and Jeremy bp. 24 June 1627 are the children of John Goodrich the Clothier, 3) Robert bp. 7 July 1625, Mary bp. 2 January 1627/8, Margaret bp. 8 December 1630, and Catherine bp. 9 May 1633, as well as John bp. 21 December 1623 and Martha bp. 30 January 1624/5 baptized at Bury St. James (Figure 3), are grandchildren of John Goodrich the Alderman and wife Martha by son John. William Goodrich the Elder, son of John Goodrich the Clothier, was possibly baptized at Bury St. James (Figure 3).

Figure 3. Transcribed records of St. James parish in Bury St. Edmunds by Lillian Redstone (1885-1955). [45] Selected Goodrich records include:

- 1) Possible baptism of William Goodrich the Elder on 3 December 1616 if the father was actually John vs. William. In either case, this child was the same age as William Goodrich the Elder, who was age 17 on 15 April 1634. [46]
- 2) Baptisms of children of John Goodrich, eldest son of John Goodrich the Alderman: John bp. 21 December 1623, Martha bp. 30 January 1624/5.
- 3) Baptisms of children of Benjamin and wife Katherine Goodrich, another son of John Goodrich the Alderman: Henry bp. 29 June 1636, John bp. 1 Jan 1638/9, Lucy bp. 29 July 1640.
- 4) Marriage of William Goodrich, son of Adam Goodrich of Felsham, to Alice Robinson on 26 October 1597.
- 5) Marriage of John Goodrich, son of William I Goodrich of Hessett, to Margerie Howes on 7 August 1615.
- 6) Second marriage of Henry Goodrich, son of William I Goodrich of Hessett, to Rose Howe on 5 February 1618/9.
- 7) Burial of Benjamin Goodrich, son of John Goodrich the Alderman, on 3 February 1640/1.

ADAM GOODRICH OF FELSHAM. His 13 March 1596/7 will, proved 8 April 1597, named wife Katherine, principal heir Robert, and children JOHN, Henry, William, Alice, Adam, Elizabeth, Anthony, Anne, Isaac, and Susan. [47] The son "John Goodrich of Bury" in the will was likely John Goodrich the Alderman, who baptized a child there in 1595. [49] Adam Goodrich of Felsham married twice, residing initially in Hessett with his first wife Anne, [50] and in Felsham from 1570 onward with first wife Anne and second wife Katherine after Anne died. [51] Issue:

- i. Susan, bp. 15 April 1566 at St. Ethelbert-Hessett.
- ii. JOHN, bp. 8 September 1568 at St. Ethelbert-Hessett.
- iii. Henry, bp. 3 June 1571 at St. Peter-Felsham.
- iv. William, bp. 12 November 1574 at St. Peter-Felsham.
- v. Alice, bp. 9 March 1576/7 at St. Peter-Felsham.
- vi. Adam, bp. 30 March 1579 at St. Peter-Felsham.
- vii. Elizabeth, bp. 17 August 1581 at St. Peter-Felsham.
- viii. Anthony, bp. 19 May 1584 at St. Peter-Felsham.
- ix. Isaac, bp. 1 January 1588/9 at St. Peter-Felsham.

Son Robert was likely baptized near November 1563, and daughter Anne was likely baptized near March 1586. An entry in the records, William ch Adam Goodrich, buried 4 July 1579, [52] is confusing, since William is named before Alice in the will, [53] and no 1579-1589 Felsham baptism of William Goodrich was found. [54] William in the will is likely "Willyam Gooderick" who married "Alvs Robinson" on 26 October 1597 at Bury St. James (Figure 3); issue: [55]

- i. William, bp. 23 April 1598 at Bury St. James, Bury St. Edmunds.
- ii. Johanna, bp. 28 December 1600 at Bury St. Mary, Bury St. Edmunds.

Son William bp. 1598 could be William Goodridge of Watertown. However, Goodridge Y-DNA descendants share the following Y-STR allele values: 25 at DYS-390 and 32 at DYS CDYa, with Goodrich-Wethersfield Y-DNA descendants. Y-DNA descendants of Goodrich-Rappahannock, conversely, share unique allele values 24 at DYS-390 and 33 at DYS CDYa in the project; the one unique allele value of all Goodridge-Watertown so far is 21 at DYS-635 vs. 22 for others. [56]

Immigrant WILLIAM<sup>1</sup> GOODRIDGE of Watertown, Massachusetts married Margaret Butterfield on 19 August 1631 at Woolverstone, Suffolk before coming to America, where he had a Watertown land grant dated 28 February 1636/7. He was made a Massachusetts freeman on 18 May 1642, and died before 8 May 1645<sup>[57]</sup> after the births of 5 children:<sup>[58]</sup>

- William, bp. 4 October 1632; bur. 30 April 1633 (both at Woolverstone).
- ii. Mary, bp. 21 August 1634 (Woolverstone).
- Jeremy (later Jeremiah), b. 6 March 1637/8 (Watertown). iii.
- Joseph, b. 29 September 1639 (Watertown). iv.
- Benjamin, b. 11 April 1642 (Watertown). v.

William Goodridge of Watertown died in the same year as William II Goodrich of Hessett, the only possible candidate for his father with MRCA within 12 generations of the author, and if so the likely namesake of grandson William who died in infancy in Woolverstone. This placement would make William Goodridge a 1st cousin to John and William Goodrich of Wethersfield, and all three of them 2nd cousins of Thomas Goodrich of Rappahannock, as shown in Figure 4.<sup>[59]</sup>

William the Elder, John, William the Younger, and Jeremy Goodrich: The Lost Years ~ By Stephen D. Goodrich, Ph.D.

William Goodrich the Elder, son of John Goodrich and Margerie Howes, age 17 when admitted to Caius College on 15 April 1634,<sup>[60]</sup> was born ~1616, so he was a year older than brother John (bp. 22 March 1617/8).<sup>[61]</sup> As the eldest son, grandfather William Goodrich was his namesake. Yet the will of his father John Goodrich the Clothier, dated 14 April 1632; proved 16 May 1632, bequeathed Bury St. Edmunds house and lands and Horningsheath land to wife Margerie, Hessett land and buildings to son John, and £100 each to his other sons William the Elder, William the Younger, and Jeremy. [62], [63] John Goodrich died on 19 April 1632 and was buried on 21 April 1632. Wife Margerie died sometime before his will was proved on 16 May 1632. [64]

William Goodrich the Elder, after his graduation from Caius College, was a minister of the Church of England; he married and had no issue. He was vicar of Cranbrook, Kent, England in 1646, and was ejected from the ministry there in 1662 after the Anglican Church was reinstated as the state church of England at the expense of Presbyterian and Congregational nonconformists. On 10 August 1663 he became ward of nephew William Goodrich, infant orphan son of Jeremy Goodrich of Bury St. Edmunds and his widow. On 19 May 1665 he was granted administration after his nephew died. By 1669, nonconformist Rev. William Goodrich preached from his home in Hessett, and on 10 June 1672 he received a license to teach there. Jeremy Goodrich, like William Goodrich of Watertown, Massachusetts, lived only to age ~36.

The will of John Goodrich the Clothier of Bury St. Edmunds in 1632 entrusted management of the inheritances of each of his four sons to wife Margerie, until each son reached the age of 21, stipulating that if any son was uncooperative with Margerie, or with any other guardian who took her place in the event of her death, his inheritance would be divided among the others. [72] Only Clement Chaplin, a Bury St. Edmunds chandler, [73] served as guardian after Margerie died in 1632. So from then to 1639-1643, he had the full cooperation of John and William Goodrich.

Clement Chaplin of Bury St. Edmunds arrived in Boston in 1635 on the Elizabeth and Ann, most likely with his wife Sarah (Hinds) Chaplin, daughter of a Bury St. Edmunds goldsmith, <sup>[74]</sup> as an unlisted passenger (or so believed Savage, 1860). <sup>[75]</sup> The Elizabeth and Ann is known to have carried children of my 9-great-grandfather Rev. Peter Bulkeley traveling under assumed names (Jacobus, 1922). <sup>[76]</sup> In Cambridge, Massachusetts, Rev. Peter Bulkeley and Clement Chaplin were neighbors as of 1635/6. <sup>[77]</sup> The records of a town meeting dated 8 February 1635/6 reveal further that the Chaplin household, with three occupants, <sup>[78]</sup> had at least one additional male at that time, of an age and status suitable to take up the task of being a community shepherd: <sup>[79]</sup>

Agreed with Mr. Chaplin that his man shall keep the goats, and to have three half-pence a week for one goat and a penny a week for wethers or kids, to begin next Monday.

Possibly this was an apprenticeship in animal husbandry for John (age 18 at the time) and/or William Goodrich (age 14), one or both of whom had also either sailed on the Elizabeth and Ann as unlisted passengers, or under assumed names, or came to America soon afterward.

In Watertown, Massachusetts, 3-acre meadow grants (1 acre per person or per £20-value cattle) were made in 1636-1637 to John Guttereg and William Guttereg. William Goodridge had a homestead, a household of 3, [82], [83] and by 1642 owned 25 acre and 3 acre grants (1636-1637) to John Goodridge, who had no homestead and disappeared after 1637. Bond (1860) implied William/John were one man. William could have had a brother John with no baptism record.

The residences of William Goodridge north of Mount Auburn Cemetery in Watertown and of Clement Chaplin near the intersection of Harvard and Dunster Streets in Cambridge were within 1.4 miles straight walking distance. Wethersfield, Connecticut was part of Watertown, and called Watertown until named Wethersfield by the Hartford General Court on 21 February 1636/7. The 1644 Watertown land inventory even named pre-1637 Wethersfield settlers Robert Seeley, Thurston Raynor, Andrew Ward and Nathaniel Foote, [87], [88] though 1644 was three years after Ward and Raynor had moved on to Stamford, Connecticut.

Cambridge, Massachusetts and Hartford, Connecticut were twin communities in the same sense as Watertown and Wethersfield, though in this case both communities were called Newtown until 21 February 1636/7. For this reason, Clement Chaplin of Cambridge was among the followers of Rev. Thomas Hooker who arrived in Hartford, Connecticut in 1636, yet he settled immediately in Wethersfield as Ruling Elder, and largest landowner, and there was likely assisted in farm labors by his charges, brothers John and William Goodrich.

Clement Chaplin owned a 1,200 acre Three Mile lot east of the Connecticut River, the largest lot in Naubuc Farms, adjacent north of the 900 acre lot of Matthew Mitchell, which was the lot farthest south among the first Three-Mile lots allocated in 1640. [93] Chaplin also bought from the widow of Wethersfield settler John Brundish a homestead and two lots in Farthest West Field; one Brundish lot sold to John Goodrich. [94] Clement Chaplin returned to England after 1646; in his will proved in 1656 he is a clerk of Thetford, County Norfolk and named wife Sarah, leaving to her lands in Wethersfield and Hartford, and also named his brother William Chaplin. [95]

John Goodrich was the original proprietor of a one-acre lot near the northeast corner of Manhannock Island by 1640, [96] reaching age 21 in 1639, and sold this lot to Thomas Wright. [97] John did not record the purchase of the former Brundish homestead and one Brundish 17 acre lot in Farthest West Field (FWF) from Clement Chaplin until 3 June 1672. [98] However, he likely bought at least the Brundish homestead before a 10 Apr 1651 drainage agreement naming John and Brundish homestead neighbors, Thomas Wright and John Harrison, [99] cited by John in 1672. John also bought from Thomas Ufford two 16 acre lots in FWF, and owned 49 acres total in FWF (Figure 4), before he sold the Ufford lots to his brother William Goodrich, as was recorded by William on 4 April 1659. [100] John also purchased other miscellaneous tracts, [101] including Manhannock Island lots he had bought from other proprietors and sold to Thomas Wright. [102] (His purchase of 203 acres from Thomas Edwards in 1673 [103] is described in the next article).

Ensign William<sup>1</sup> Goodrich purchased from Thomas Ufford: 1) a homestead adjacent north of Clement Chaplin, 2) a 117 acre Three Mile lot in Naubuc Farms (mapped in the next article), and 3) smaller lots, all recorded 3 March 1646.<sup>[104]</sup> William also purchased other smaller tracts, <sup>[105]</sup> including the two 16-acre lots in FWF sold to him by his brother John<sup>1</sup> Goodrich before the transaction was recorded by William on 4 April 1659, as described in the preceding paragraph.

South Glastonbury Goodrich Lands of Treat Farm and Terramuggus: The Lost Acres ~ By Stephen D. Goodrich, Ph.D.

The first attempts of the author to map the lands owned by his ancestors in Glastonbury and South Glastonbury in 2008 were guided by three major rules: 1) Naubuc Three-Mile lots reached from the border with East Hartford north to the south border of the Matthew Mitchell lot at the mouth of Sturgeon River, 2) the 40 rod lot of Thomas<sup>3</sup> Goodrich (LWC 49)<sup>[106]</sup> in Nayaug was centered north-south on Still Hill Cemetery, [107] 3) Treat Farm in Nayaug had 900 acres total, 310 rods wide at the river side and narrower on the east side. In a hint of what is to come in this article, the author found it was possible to map the lands in Naubuc and Nayaug separately using their respective rules, but bringing Naubuc and Nayaug together in the middle was not working.

The Naubuc lots were allotted in 1640, extending three miles east from the Connecticut River to the wilderness or "common land." North-south boundaries of the original 38 lots in Naubuc were separated by a stated number of rods each, totaling 1,320.5 rods (4.13 miles) north-south. The lot of Matthew Mitchell farthest south was 150 rods north-south and contained 900 acres; second in size only to the Clement Chaplin lot that was 200 rods N-S and 1,200 acres. [109]

Matthew Mitchell left Wethersfield for Stamford in 1641,<sup>[110]</sup> and by 1684, after his 900 acre lot had passed through a number of owners, it had been divided into four lots, each 37.5 rods wide north-south and 225 acres, that belonged to (from north to south): 1) heirs of Nathaniel Graves, 2) my 8-great-grandfather Gershom<sup>2</sup> Bulkeley and heirs of John Belden, 3) John<sup>2</sup> Hollister (1642-1711), heir of the Nayaug property of John<sup>1</sup> Hollister (1611-1665) and wife Joanna<sup>2</sup> Treat and the husband of Sarah<sup>2</sup> Goodrich (LWC 10),<sup>[111]</sup> and 4) heirs of Hugh Welles.<sup>[112]</sup>

In a border dispute concerning this lot, [113] John<sup>2</sup> Hollister stated that its extreme south border, which bounded south on his 130 acre lot in Nayaug, was at the mouth of Sturgeon River and from there extended due east, though he could not place the extinct Cow Pens said to have been the south border landmark, and the tree marking he identified was judged to be a natural mark rather than an axe mark for a lot boundary (made two years before John<sup>2</sup> Hollister was born). The plaintiffs in the border dispute, Gershom<sup>2</sup> Bulkeley and the heirs of John Belden, argued that the south border of the Mitchell lot began at the mouth of Sturgeon River, but from there followed the course of Roaring Brook to a point farther south, from which the border ran due east, and argued further that the axe marks for the borders of the original Naubuc lots were still visible in the trees from north to south. There was sufficient ambiguity and confusion in this debate for both parties to prevail: defendant Hollister in the September, 1684 verdict of the initial lawsuit in Hartford County Court, and plaintiffs Bulkeley and Belden in the appeals and in the final verdict by a Committee of the General Court in May 1685. [114]

In 1970, 285 years after the final verdict in the border dispute, the late Marjorie McNulty stated that the final border decision was incorrect, since the border with East Hartford had been set at Pewter Pot Brook, which had changed its course by the time it was consulted in 1685, resulting in a shift of the south border of the Matthew Mitchell lot that merged the Mitchell lot into the land of John<sup>2</sup> Hollister and deprived Glastonbury of 85.5 rods of north-south area.<sup>[115]</sup>

This theory of McNulty was put to test through the use of satellite maps and the north-south dimensions of the original 1640 Naubuc lots (Figure 5). The map in Figure 5, drawn on a map of Glastonbury (1869), has the Still Hill Cemetery in the center of the 40 rods wide lot deeded to Thomas Goodrich by his father, my 7-great-grandfather Ephraim Goodrich, in 1728. Proceeding north from this lot in consecutive steps:

- 1) the 40 rod lot of Richard<sup>3</sup> Goodrich (LWC 44), deeded by Ephraim<sup>2</sup> Goodrich in 1713,<sup>[118]</sup> and stated in 1728 as bounding north on the 40 rod lot of Thomas<sup>3</sup> Goodrich,<sup>[119]</sup>
- 2) 130 rods of the Treat Farm still owned by Thomas<sup>3</sup> Treat in his will proved 12 March 1712/3 (deduced in part by deeds from 1688-1738 indicating its former size), the will stating further that the remaining Treat Farm bounded south, in both its meadow and uplands portions, on the land of Richard<sup>3</sup> Goodrich, and that it bounded north on the lands of John<sup>2</sup> Hollister, [120]
- 3) the 21.7 rods of the 130 acre lot of John<sup>2</sup> Hollister that bounded south on Treat Farm, [121]
- 4) the 150 rods of the original lot of Matthew Mitchell that bounded south on the 130 acre lot of John<sup>2</sup> Hollister, [122] its resulting south border in the map intersecting the Connecticut River at Ferry Lane at the site of the Wethersfield-Glastonbury ferry (Figure 5).

Marjorie McNulty placed the Ufford-Goodrich lot near Meadow Lane/Road in Glastonbury. Before attempting to map the south border of this lot, the intersections of Meadow Road in Glastonbury and Foote Road in South Glastonbury with Main Street were identified in both the 1869 background map and in a modern satellite map. Using the respective distance scales for the 1869 map and the satellite map, the straight distances between these two intersections were determined to be 3.22 miles in both maps; an encouraging demonstration of internal consistency.

From the north boundary of the Matthew Mitchell lot, the distance to the south border of the lot my 8-great-grandfather Ensign William¹ Goodrich bought from Thomas Ufford by 3 March 1646 (19.5 rods; 117 acres) was 635.5 rods, according to the 1640 Naubuc lot allocation roster. When a line was mapped 635.5 rods from the north border of the Mitchell lot, the resulting south boundary of the Ufford-Goodrich lot was on Meadow Road where it intersects Main Street in Glastonbury, such that the houses at 2030 Main Street and 2038 Main Street would be near the south border, and the north border was on Williams Street West. The error anticipated for this lot placement is expected to be considerably smaller than 85.5 rods, which is in agreement with Judge Sherman Adams, who on double-checking the total width of Naubuc lots in 1685 vs. 1640 found the values agreed within 2.0-2.5 rods (33-41 feet). [126]

Yet though this experiment appears to validate the ruling of the committee of the General Court in 1685 concerning the location of the original south border of the lot of Matthew Mitchell, three Wethersfield deeds (1688-1693)<sup>[128]</sup> reveal 180 rods of extra land in the Treat Farm of Nayaug. The farm, 310 rods wide on the river side, was said to be 900 acres<sup>[129]</sup> (the author once mapped its "900 acres" as 310 rods meadow + 130 rods upland; average 3.09 miles east-west).

Whether Treat Farm was limited to 900 acres at some point prior to 6 February 1688 is unknown to the author; however, the three deeds cited reveal that as of 6 February 1688 the Treat Farm in Nayaug had a constant width of 310 rods, bounding north on the 130 acre lot of John<sup>2</sup> Hollister, south on the Four-Score-Acre lot of Samuel Hale, west on the Connecticut River and east on common land. At 1,860 acres, this tract was just 15 acres smaller than the sum of the 1,200 acre Chaplin lot and 3 of the 225 (675) acre portions of the 900 acre Mitchell lot in 1685 (Figure 6).

The 1688-1692 deeds from my 8-great-grandfather Richard<sup>2</sup> Treat to his daughter Sarah<sup>3</sup> Treat and son-in-law Ephraim<sup>2</sup> Goodrich deeded 80 rods of meadow and upland east to common land, bounding south on the Four-Score lot of Samuel Hale. [130] The remaining 230 rods of Treat Farm were deeded to my 7-great-grandfather Thomas<sup>3</sup> Treat by the 20 May 1693 deed.<sup>[131]</sup> When the will of Thomas<sup>3</sup> Treat was proved in 1713 (wife Dorothy (Bulkeley) Treat-administratix), [132] his farm had 130 rods left (Figure 7), though no additional deeds of land transfer have been found.

Goodrich Lands of Wongunk Chieff Terramuggus in South Glastonbury/East Glastonbury

The tract was described in the deed, signed by Terramuggus only, on 23 Jan 1672/3:<sup>[145]</sup>

...upland and swamp, lying neere, or in, Assawasick, Paguanaug, by Mannantuck; giving and granting full power to the aforementioned Mr. Borman & Tho. Edwars to measure out to themselves (the said 400 acres; out of) respect and divers other good considerations. [146]

- 3. Ebenezer Fox: North 100 acres of 200 acres deeded on 10 Feb 1672/3 by Terramuggus to Samuel Boardman, who marked out his land three miles east of the Connecticut River. It came into the possession of his daughter Mary<sup>2</sup> Boardman and her first husband John<sup>2</sup> Robbins.<sup>[150]</sup> Their son Richard<sup>3</sup> Robbins sold the north 100 acres on 13 May 1721 to Ebenezer Fox, [151] who sold the south 50 acres to son-in-law Thomas Matson, husband of Rachel Fox, on 17 April 1741, [152] and sold the north 50 acres to his son Richard Fox on 26 October 1746. [153]
- Jonas Holmes: South 100 acres of 200 acres deeded on 10 Feb 1672/3 by Terramuggus to Samuel Boardman. It also came into the possession of his daughter Mary<sup>2</sup> Boardman and her first husband John<sup>2</sup> Robbins. [154] Their son Samuel<sup>3</sup> Robbins sold the south 100 acres in a deed dated 4 November 1719 to Jonas Holmes.<sup>[155]</sup>

Edwards-Goodrich Land in East Glastonbury

After his grant from Terramuggus, Thomas<sup>2</sup> Edwards (~1621-1683), son of John<sup>1</sup> Edwards and an unknown first wife who died before John settled in Wethersfield, exercised his right to set out his tract of land, comprising about 203 acres, in April 1673 as follows (verbatim): [159]

Thomas Edwards his land, laid out of the south side of Roreing Brooke, nere Mr. Willard's land, called by the Indians Amaunnantucksuck; there I pitched my first corner-stone, by the brooke, and diged 2 hoolles; and from thence measured westsouwest forty-two chains; which is halfe a mile and 8 rods; and sousouwest, on each side, nine score and fourteen rodds. Signed: Caturrnuggas, his Marke. Witnesses, Richard Treat and Hugh Welles.

In 1673, Thomas<sup>2</sup> Edwards sold his 203-acre tract of land to John<sup>1</sup> Goodrich of Wethersfield.<sup>[160]</sup> Because of this land transaction, Elizabeth, the first wife of John<sup>1</sup> Goodrich, is identified in a number of genealogies as Elizabeth<sup>3</sup> Edwards, a daughter of Thomas<sup>2</sup> Edwards.<sup>[161]</sup> However, as noted by Jacobus in a paragraph that also revealed the fate of this tract of land:<sup>[162]</sup>

(John<sup>1</sup> Goodrich's) wife Elizabeth, in nearly all printed accounts, is placed as a daughter of Thomas Edwards; but since Edwards, by his stated age at death, was born about 1621 and also was referred to in 1657 by Winthrop as a "young man," he could hardly have been father of Elizabeth Goodrich, whose eldest child was born in 1645 when her alleged father was about twenty-four years old. Goodrich did, however, purchase land in Wethersfield of Thomas Edwards, half of which he conveyed, 29 Sept. 1677, to Thomas Read, Jr., husband of his daughter Mary, and the other half, 11 June 1679, to his son-in-law Zachariah Maynard and his daughter Hannah, Maynard's wife. [163]

A partial identification of Elizabeth, the first wife of John<sup>1</sup> Goodrich, is found in the 1680 will of her son Joseph<sup>2</sup> Goodrich, who named as his executors my loving uncle Thomas<sup>1</sup> Read of Sudbury, Massachusetts, where Joseph and his siblings lived after their mother died in 1670, and his brother-in-law Thomas<sup>2</sup> Read.<sup>[164]</sup>

Boardman-Robbins-Fox-Goodrich Land in South Glastonbury

The 200 acres deeded on 10 Feb 1672/3 by Terramuggus to Samuel<sup>1</sup> Boardman were marked out three miles east of the Connecticut River and came into the possession of two of his grandsons by his daughter Mary<sup>2</sup> Boardman and her first husband John<sup>2</sup> Robbins.<sup>[166]</sup>

Samuel<sup>3</sup> Robbins sold the south 100 acres on 4 November 1719 to Jonas Holmes, who sold it on 26 Apr 1729 to son Richard Holmes, who sold it on 2 April 1735 to Benjamin Wright. 169]

Richard<sup>3</sup> Robbins sold the north 100 acres on 13 May 1721 to Ebenezer Fox,<sup>[170]</sup> who sold the south 50 acres on 17 April 1741<sup>[171]</sup> to son-in-law Thomas Matson, husband of his daughter Rachel Fox,<sup>[172]</sup> and sold the north 50 acres, including the homestead on which Ebenezer Fox resided, on 27 October 1746 to his son Richard Fox.<sup>[173]</sup>

My 4-great-grandfather Stephen<sup>5</sup> Goodrich received the south 25 acres of the 50 acre lot from Stephen<sup>4</sup> Goodrich on 26 December 1786, on the same day his father-in-law Joseph Bidwell bought the north 25 acres and house, [177] where Stephen<sup>5</sup> and Lois (Bidwell) Goodrich and their growing family resided with the Bidwell maternal grandparents as of the 1790 US Census. [178]

At that point, having sold the last of his land in Glastonbury, Captain Stephen<sup>4</sup> Goodrich moved the rest of his family to Middlebury, Vermont, where he settled initially on the south 100 acres of the confiscated 200 acre claim of Loyalist Oliver Ewarts that Stephen had purchased in 1784. [179] Stephen relocated his family to Middlebury permanently by 6 February 1787, the date of a deed with neighbor Robert Huston, [180] owner of the north 100 acres of the Oliver Ewarts claim. [181]

Son Stephen<sup>5</sup> Goodrich and his family remained in South Glastonbury until he sold his 25 acres to Jonathan Bidwell on 21 January 1795, [182] then moved his family to Middlebury, Vermont by 24 February 1795, when he received the first of two 60 acre lots adjacent-south of the 100 acre lot of his father Stephen<sup>4</sup> Goodrich from his older brother William<sup>5</sup> Goodrich, [183] husband of Mary<sup>5</sup> Hollister, [184] daughter of Joseph<sup>4</sup> Hollister and Rebecca<sup>5</sup> Treat and granddaughter of Isaac<sup>4</sup> Treat and Rebecca<sup>4</sup> Bulkeley. [185] Stephen<sup>5</sup> Goodrich sold both of the 60 acre lots for a 100 acre homestead on 2 September 1796, then sold all his land in Middlebury in 1810-1811 [186] and moved his family to Locke, New York, [187] where he and wife Lois lived out their lives.

Ancestry of Stephen<sup>7</sup> Goodrich (LWC 2105) in The Goodrich Family in America

~ By Stephen D. Goodrich, Ph.D.

The ancestry of the 2-great-grandfather of the author, Stephen Beriah Goodrich (1821-1910), is in The Goodrich Family in America, [188], [189] though he was not recognized as published:

STEPHEN, 7-2105 JOSIAH, 6-1051 STEPHEN, 5-392 STEPHEN, 4-136 WILLIAM, 3-47 EPHRAIM, 2-16 WILLIAM. 1-2

The ancestral connection had to be proven, since there was no date of birth, death or other information for the son named Stephen in this family. The proof came in 2008 in the form of a baptismal dedication dated 1827, archived in the Cornell University Rare Manuscript Collection, revealing the children of Josiah Betsey (Greenleaf) Goodrich (Figure 8).

CAPTAIN EPHRAIM<sup>2</sup> GOODRICH was married first on 20 May 1684 at Wethersfield to Sarah<sup>3</sup> Treat (born 8 June 1664 in Wethersfield and died 26 January 1711/2 in Glastonbury), daughter of Richard<sup>2</sup> and Sarah (Coleman) Treat. [198] Ephraim was a co-founder of Glastonbury in 1690. [199] Married second the widow Jerusha<sup>3</sup> (Treat) Welles on 25 December 1712 at Wethersfield. [200] Glastonbury Freeman (1697). [201] Ensign (1698)[202] and Lieutenant (1710)[203] at Glastonbury; Lieutenant (1713)[204] and Captain (1716) at Wethersfield. [205] A farmer and large landowner in Glastonbury and Stepney, he died on 27 February 1738/9 at Rocky Hill.

The published roster of his children with first wife Sarah in The Goodrich Family in America (1889) had seven children, of whom only Richard had a sourced date of birth from the Wethersfield Town Records. Jacobus published, for those with tombstone inscriptions, a more plausible year of birth, which in all cases except for Gideon was consistent with a published date of birth. The only child with no tombstone was Thomas, and the only remaining unassigned dates of birth were 3 August 1689 and 3 October 1699. The will of Thomas<sup>3</sup> Treat, dated 13 June 1709, was witnessed by Richard Goodrich and Thomas Goodrich, precluding any possibility that Thomas was born in 1699 and was a co-signer of this will at the age of 10. So Thomas is assigned date of birth 3 August 1689, and was near age 30 when he married on 26 November 1619. The tombstone of Gideon reveals that he died on 9 August 1769, Æ 74. This age at death could be reconciled with the one remaining date of birth if there was a transcription error in which the year 1695 was mistaken for 1699. So Gideon is assigned date of birth 3 October 1695, and so was near age 23 when he married on 29 June 1718. [206], [207]

WILLIAM<sup>3</sup> GOODRICH married on 4 April 1728/9 at Middletown, Connecticut, Rachel<sup>3</sup> Savage (born 15 January 1703/4 in Middletown; died 20 September 1787 in South Glastonbury), daughter of John<sup>2</sup> and Mary (Ranney) Savage.   - Note: Micah Goodrich (LWC-143), placed as a son of William<sup>3</sup> Goodrich and Rachel Savage, [216], [217] was son of Abraham<sup>4</sup> Goodrich (LWC-74) and Hannah Collins, [218] who were not "childless." [219]

CAPTAIN STEPHEN<sup>-4</sup> GOODRICH married on 1 January 1754 Dorothy, [220] who was probably Dorothy<sup>5</sup> Treat (born 18 June 1731 in South Glastonbury; [221] died 19 January 1811 in Middlebury, Vermont<sup>[222]</sup>) daughter of Thomas<sup>4</sup> and Mary (Hopson) Treat and a childhood neighbor of Stephen. Stephen served in the Revolutionary War (1775-1781), [223], [224] initially as 1st-Lieutenant, Continental Army 1775-1776: Battles of Bunker Hill<sup>[225]</sup> and Long Island; <sup>[226]</sup> Lieutenant, Connecticut State Militia 1777-1779: Battles of Saratoga, [227] New Haven Alarm, [228] and was commissioned Captain, 3rd Company, 6th Connecticut Militia Regiment, 1780-1781. [229] An error credited son Stephen<sup>5</sup> with his military service (Figure 9;<sup>[230]</sup> son William<sup>5</sup> was a war veteran, on the frigate Trumbull in 1776; at 6'2" William was the tallest man in his unit). [231] Stephen relocated his family to Middlebury, Vermont where he then resided on a 100 acre farm until 1799, when he sold his farm<sup>[232]</sup> for a farm of 205 acres on the border with Salisbury, [233] where his son Amos and his descendants settled. Two thrilling accounts describe encounters with local wild animals: Stephen with a pack of wolves, [234] and his son Amos with a black bear. [235] Wife Dorothy died "in her 80th year." [236] Stephen then married second on 13 April 1812 in Salisbury, Vermont<sup>[237]</sup> Hannah (Reynolds-Story) Smalley, renowned as the Revolutionary War heroine Ann Story, a widowed mother of 5 children who served as an aide and confidant of the Green Mountain Boys. [238] Hannah (born 27 February 1735/6 in Preston City, Connecticut) died on 5 April 1817 in Middlbury, where Stephen died on 23 September 1823. [239] Stephen and first wife Dorothy had 10 children, of whom 7 survived to adulthood and those born in 1760-1774 have dates of baptism* published as dates of birth: [240], [241]*

JOSIAH<sup>6</sup> GOODRICH married in ~1815 at Moravia, New York Betsey<sup>7</sup> Greenleaf (1797-1869), a daughter of Samuel<sup>6</sup> and Sarah (King) Greenleaf. Josiah and Betsey were New York residents of Locke (~1815-1822), [271], [272] Ithaca (1822-1836), [273], [274] Groton (1836-1842), [275] Locke (1842-1848), and, after the California Gold Rush they returned to Ithaca, where Josiah died on 13 February 1862<sup>[278]</sup> and Betsey died on 13 April 1869. [279] Issue biographies:

Elizabeth<sup>7</sup> Minerva Goodrich died in a boating catastrophe linked to an intended island picnic on 2 September 1852 on Cassadaga Lake, Chautauqua, New York.<sup>[280]</sup> Elizabeth was one of the 20 passengers, including first-cousin Ellen<sup>7</sup> Goodrich (LWC 2110), of a scow boat that careened and launched its occupants into the water after they rose to their feet on seeing the smaller boat in front of them, including first-cousin passenger Henry<sup>7</sup> Goodrich (LWC 2109), sink into the water after losing an oarlock in rough waters. Elizabeth and seven other occupants of the scow drowned. She is buried in a common grave in Evergreen Cemetery in Stockton, New York.<sup>[281]</sup>

Harvey<sup>7</sup> Greenleaf Goodrich was married at Elmira, Chemung, New York 16 April 1639<sup>[282]</sup> to Lydia Hallett (born 8 December 1819; [283] died 21 May 1889<sup>[284]</sup>), daughter of William and Polly (Jones) Hallett, His 1901 obituary, and an ad in the 5 August 1847 Ithaca Daily Chronicle, reveal Harvey was in the marble business from 26 December 1843 until he sold out in 1886. [286] In a subsequent interview in the Ithaca Daily News of 20 June 1899, Harvey revealed he moved to Ithaca at age 5 in 1822 and lived in Ithaca from 1822-1835 and 1843-1899. In the 1840 US Census, "H. G. Goodrich" resided in Milton, Yates, New York. Issue: [287]

Stephen<sup>4</sup> Goodrich bought 1a (100 acres) in 1784, [297] and soon after moving to Middlebury, Vermont permanently he bought 3 acres attached to the north border of 1a on 6 February 1787. [298] Stephen sold 1a in three portions in 1799 to nephew Jehiel<sup>5</sup> Goodrich (LWC-418), [299] Dan Chipman, [300] Dr. William Bass, [301] and Gamaliel Painter, [302] having purchased 1b (205 acres) from Gamaliel Painter on the same day he sold to Painter a portion of 1a. [303] Stephen<sup>5</sup> Goodrich received in 1795 from brother William<sup>5</sup> Goodrich: 3a (24 Feb 1795), [304] 3b (24 Jul 1795). [305] On 2 Sep 1796 Stephen<sup>5</sup> sold 3a-3b to Rev. John Barnet and bought a 100 acre homestead (3c) from Rev. Barnet. [306] Later Stephen<sup>5</sup> co-purchased with brother William<sup>5</sup> lots 2 and 3d from Amos<sup>5</sup> Goodrich on 19 Feb 1805. [307] Stephen<sup>5</sup> Goodrich sold 3c in 1810, [308] 3d in 1811, [309] and then he moved his family to Locke, Cayuga, New York. Amos<sup>5</sup> Goodrich sold tracts 4, 2 and 3d, and also bought 1b = 5b from Stephen<sup>4</sup> Goodrich on 19 Feb 1805. [310] Stephen<sup>5</sup> Goodrich of Locke, Cayuga, New York, released to his brother Amos<sup>5</sup> Goodrich of Middlebury, Vermont, in a quit-claim deed dated 12 May 1823, rights to lands of their late brother William<sup>5</sup> Goodrich in Middlebury. [311]

STEPHEN<sup>7</sup> BERIAH GOODRICH married in ~1844 at Eastport, New York Polly<sup>7</sup> Lavina Raynor (born 27 August 1827; died 16 January 1906),[312] a daughter of Jonathan Hallock Raynor and Huldah Robinson. [313] He was a sailor in the Merchant Marine, [314] seasonal bayman, and farmer in Brookhaven, New York. [315] Stephen, father Josiah, and son-in-law Joseph Robinson [316] sailed to the California Gold Rush in 1848-1849 on whaling ships departing Southampton, New York for a 13,328 mile voyage around the treacherous Cape Horn, South America. [317] Stephen was listed in the 1850 US Census for Calaveras, California: S. B. Goodrich, age 28, miner, b. in NY. Stephen likely had familiarity with the 6-month journey to California from his previous experiences on whaling voyages of 3-5 years each. [318] Whaling ships had frequented California ports on the way to whaling grounds in the Sea of Japan. The California Gold Rush, and the discovery and recovery of American petroleum reserves that displaced whale oil, contributed to the demise of the American whaling industry by 1869. [319] Town of Brookhaven tax assessments reveal Stephen was diversifying his occupation as a landowner in Seatuck near Eastport, owning 8 acres there in 1854 and 14 acres in 1857. Stephen sold his land in Seatuck by 1868 and moved his family to Faribault County, Minnesota and filed a US Homestead Act claim for 80 acres, section 26, Barber Township (4 May 1869, certificate 3872, application 5731). The claim was proved on 17 December 1875 and was granted on 1 March 1876. Issue: [320], [321]

Perchance 'tis pride, but he who reads

Of these who did and dared and died –

Then be it love or be it pride,

There is a link that seems to hold

Us bound to ancestors of old.
